DEFENSE PLAN IS ACCLAIMED

CONGRESS EAGER TO SUPPLY MONEY ASKED BY PRESIDENT; DRAFT EXPANDED

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy asked a willing, eager Congress Wednesday for money and power to freeze military men in service and call 250,000 reserves to active duty for a year.

This was part of a swift flurry of action in the wake of Kennedy's appeal to the nation to get ready to fight, if need be, to preserve the freedom of West Berlin and the world against ominous threats from the Kremlin.

There were other steps:

The draft was expanded—the August quota goes up from 8,000 to 13,000 men and that for September to 20,000. Congress threw bipartisan backing behind Kennedy. Bills went into the hopper. A $3.5-billion dollar fund for financing more military manpower, missiles, planes and civil defense started on the legislative circuit through Congress.

McNamara Heard

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke up for the extra money before a Senate appropriations subcommittee:

"What we are seeking to achieve, and achieve quickly, is a peak readiness of our military establishment to respond promptly with appropriate forces and in adequate strength to any kind of armed communist aggression anywhere in the world, and to maintain that posture until we can see more clearly what lies ahead."

Without ruling out possible use of tactical nuclear weapons, the secretary said the defense buildup is designed to give the military more nonnuclear punch and therefore "a greater degree of flexibility in responding to particular situations."

This was putting into somewhat different words what Kennedy said Tuesday night in a stern, straight-talking address to the American people. In it, the President put squarely to Soviet Premier Khrushchev a choice of fighting or talking over Berlin. He said the United States will be ready to do either, but never to surrender.

The communist threat is worldwide, Kennedy said, but Berlin is "the great testing place of Western courage and will." He warned Khrushchev not to make the mistake of looking on Berlin as a tempting target.

Telegrams Pour In

Then Wednesday, with telegrams of encouragement flooding into the White House, Kennedy himself swung from talk to action.

In a figure-filled but terse message he asked Congress for the additional appropriation of $3,454,000,000 for the armed forces and civil defense. Of the total, $2,740,000,000 would be spent in the fiscal year which began July 1. This would boost spending for the year to a peacetime peak of $87.73 billion and produce a budget deficit of more than $5 billion.

On the heels of the money request went the draft of the manpower legislation Kennedy wants. It would authorize him to:

1. Order up to 250,000 members of the ready reserve into active service for 12 months, either as units or individuals.

2. Keep in service for an extra year anyone in any of the armed services whose enlistment or other obligation for duty normally would end in the present fiscal year that closes next June 30.

In support of a President who asked Tuesday night for the nation's good will, help and prayers, Congress reacted with speed and a striking show of bipartisan fervor.

Resolutions to give Kennedy the authority he asked were introduced at once in both Senate and House. Chairmen of the Senate and House Armed Services Committees pledged fast action.

Not a voice was raised in protest against the size or purpose of the stepped-up defense fund.

Republicans seemed willing to outdo the Democrats in speed. Their party leaders in the Senate held a policy meeting, pledged complete co-operation in what they called an emergency situation, and talked enthusiastically of rushing the money to Kennedy by next Tuesday night.

But Democratic leaders said the machinery couldn't roll that fast. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., figured it would be Friday of next week before an expanded appropriation for defense could be piloted onto the senate floor.

Senators Approve Farm Bill

CHOPS WHEAT ALLOTMENTS

Washington (UPI) — The Senate passed a pared-down version of President Kennedy's omnibus farm bill Wednesday night after rejecting Republican efforts to kill a section designed to limit 1962 feed grain production.

Before passing the bill, however, the Senate agreed after a lengthy argument to strike out a section granting farm cooperatives broader power to merge and acquire non-cooperative businesses. The administration had been split on this issue.

Cuts Approved

Key sections of the bill as finally approved include administration programs to cut 1962 production of surplus wheat and 3 feed grains—corn, grain sorghums and barley.

Democrats said the programs would save hundreds of millions of tax dollars by trimming government surplus grain stocks, and also would raise farm income.

The wheat section of the Senate bill would cut 1962 planting allotments 10%, with farmers reimbursed by government payments. Growers would be allowed to make additional cuts of up to another 30% of their allotments in return for additional payments.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has indicated he will raise 1962 supports to $2 a bushel from this year's $1.79. Special exceptions in the measure allow increased allotments for Durum wheat to guard against shortages of this type.

Trim Acreage

The feed grain section requires farmers to trim acreage of affected grains 20% below 1959-60 levels to qualify for price supports. Additional 20% cuts would be allowed for further payments.

The House Wednesday completed general debate on the measure and will begin voting on amendments Thursday. Republicans there are expected to repeat their attempts to kill the feed grain program.

A GOP move to block the 1962 feed grain program in the Senate was beaten on a 59-36 roll call vote. This program is an extension of the administration's emergency 1961 program for cutting corn and grain sorghum output. Republicans argued that extension should be delayed until final returns on 1961 operations are in early next year.

President Kennedy, in a letter made public Tuesday, appealed for quick passage of the bill even though it ignored his proposal for a long-range plan to develop crop-by-crop marketing controls.

Only a shadow of the original Kennedy request survived in a portion of the Senate bill. It expands the list of commodities eligible to adopt federal marketing orders, a less restrictive regulatory device than the marketing quotas Kennedy proposed.

Castro Would Return Plane; Merges Parties

Havana (AP) — Fidel Castro, assured of "the armed help of the Soviet people," announced Wednesday night he will merge all Cuban organizations into "the united party of Cuba's socialist revolution."

The bearded prime minister followed that with an announcement that he will return a hijacked Eastern Air Lines plane, if the United States meets his conditions.

Those conditions — the U.S. must guarantee that all Cuban planes seized in flight and taken to the U.S. in the future will be returned to Cuba.

Castro denied all responsibility for hijacking the plane which was forced by an armed passenger off its Miami-to-Tampa run Monday and landed in Cuba.

He said the Cuban government did not order the seizure because this "is against our principles and we would just be giving an excuse to imperialism for launching an attack against us."

Hundreds of thousands of Cubans gathered in Jose Marti Square to celebrate the 8th anniversary of Castro's revolution roared their approval of the one-party plan.

Castro said that in Cuba's new society "there must be only one interest, not interest of groups of classes, but collective interest." He said the days of exploitation of the people are over and now the people can say "mine is the power."

Commenting on reports he planned a single all-powerful proletarian party modeled after those in communist bloc countries, Castro said:

"The revolution will have only one organization. This is the meaning of the integraton of revolutionary organizations."

He declared "this process started months ago, but still has not been concluded."

Castro spoke after 27-year-old Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin denounced the United States and pledged "the armed help of the Soviet people" in what he called Cuba's fight for freedom and independence.

Gagarin called the Cuban revolution "one of the biggest pages of history of the liberation of the Latin American continent."

He said the Soviet Union "heard with indignation the news of the bandit attack by mercenaries of North American trusts" last April.

Cuba, he declared, "can always count on the armed help of the Soviet people." At his mention of Soviet armed help the crowd broke into wild cheers.

Castro followed Gagarin to the speaker's platform as the crowd shouted "Down With Caimanera." Caimanera is the Cuban name for the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba.

Castro said Gagarin's visit "proves Russia's great friendship toward us."

He accused the United States of launching "a criminal invasion" against Cuba.

He noted what he called "the contrast between Russia's steps for the progress of mankind and the cowardly and unscrupulous" U.S. attack.

The theme "Peace and Socialism" dominated the slogans and signs decorating the square. Figures of Uncle Sam hung in effigy and the crowd chanted anti-American slogans.

The rally began with the playing of the Cuban and Soviet national anthems. Then President Osvaldo Dorticos presented Gagarin with the order of "Playa Giron" (Giron Beach), a medal created only 10 days ago as the highest Cuban decoration. Giron Beach was the scene of last April's abortive anti-Castro invasion.

Disarmament Deadlock Meeting Long, Earnest

Moscow (AP)—Premier Khrushchev talked long and earnestly Tuesday with President Kennedy's special envoy, John J. McCloy, on the disarmament deadlock between the two powers.

The chief Soviet disarmament representative, Valerian Zorin, was also present on the sun-flooded terrace of Khrushchev's Black Sea vacation hideaway at Sochi for this last-ditch try.

There was no word in Moscow as to whether they had been successful — but most diplomats doubted it. Tass, however, said the talks were held in a friendly atmosphere.

McCloy flew to the Black Sea resort Tuesday at Khrushchev's invitation.

No Progress

McCloy and Zorin have gotten nowhere in their attempts to make arrangements for a resumption of the disarmament talks. The United States objects to the Soviet plan to expand the 10-nation committee to 15 to include 5 so-called neutrals.

McCloy was Khrushchev's house guest when Kennedy's speech calling for a boost in U.S. armed might because of the Berlin crisis was broadcast Tuesday night.

There was a sort of holiday atmosphere to the whole thing—an atmosphere Khrushchev often finds useful when he is at his most determined.

McCloy's wife, his daughter Ellen and his niece Sharman Douglas also were house guests and the Khrushchev's gave a big dinner for them at their luxurious villa outside Sochi.

Tass in a brief report said that the talks passed in a "warm atmosphere"—which sometimes connotes an optimistic political view.

Winds Whip Ord, Flatten Corn, Trees

Ord (AP)—Winds up to 80 m.p.h. whipped through Ord early Wednesday, ripping down television antennas, damaging trees and flattening corn crop.

Crop damage was greatest where farmers had been irrigating and the ground was soft. Observers said the wind sounded like a twister.

The Robert Jakubowski home in Grand Island was hit by lightning early Wednesday, causing damage of several hundred dollars. Fire Capt. William Rice, while fighting a fire, was knocked into an adjacent room. He was shaken up, but no other-wise hurt.

The Ted Lukasiewicz Jr. home, 2½ miles northwest of Farwell, was struck by a bolt of lightning. Several hundred dollars damage also resulted.

—UNEXPECTED ACTION TAKEN—

Thompson Heads Power Committee

By Don Walton

The Legislative Council's executive board Wednesday named Sen. Don Thompson of McCook to chairman the interim study committee on public power.

The action was unexpected.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, as chairman of the 1961 Legislature's Public Works Committee, had introduced the committee resolution requesting the study.

Normally, interim study committees are headed by the chief introducer of the resolution which called for a survey.

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud was named chairman of the interim committee on taxation.

Bowen was chief introducer of the tax resolution.

16 Named

The executive board named 16 senators to head 19 interim studies. They will be undertaken by 12 committees, including:

—school lands and road improvement districts, each headed by Sen. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel.
—gas tax, Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha; aviation gas tax, Sen. William Moulton of Omaha.
—soil and water conservation, Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora; water control, Sen. Ernest Staubitz of Kearney; forestry, Sen. Jensen.
—educational problems, Sen. Edwin McHugh of Murdock; Curtis School of Agriculture, Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington.
—purchasing practices, Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island.
—tourism, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.
—railway commission recodification, Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City.
—retirement systems, Sen. George Knight of Lincoln; state automobile pool, Sen. Theodore McCosh of Gering; investment of state funds, Sen. Knight.
—economic problems of small communities, Sen. William Brandt of Unadilla.
—budget, Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings.

In other action, the executive board announced that it is beginning a search for a full-time legislative fiscal analyst.

Membership of the various study committees will not be released until individual senators are notified of their assignments, probably on Friday.

The budget committee will retain its membership from the 1961 session.

Sen. H. K. Diers of Gresham is chairman of the executive board.

Other members are Sens. J. O. Peck of Columbus, Thompson and Moulton.

Dag Criticized; Clash Reported

Bizerte, Tunisia (AP)—A new clash between French and Tunisians was reported Wednesday as U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold toured this battle-scarred city.

The French base headquarters charged Tunisian units tried to capture a French post in nearby Menzel-Bourguiba but were repulsed by gunfire. No casualties were reported. The Tunisians accused the French of new violations of the cease-fire.

Hammarskjold, here at the invitation of Tunisian authorities, said he hopes common sense will prevent new fighting in the tense city.

(In Paris, the French government accused Hammarskjold of favoring Tunisia in the Bizerte crisis. The criticism vitually killed any chance of the U.N. official visiting Paris in an attempt to settle the quarrel.

(Hammarskjold had written Foreign Minister Maurice Couve De Murville complaining that the French government had not complied with the United Nations' Security Council resolution to withdraw troops to their original positions at Bizerte.

(Couve de Murville, in a letter Wednesday, coldly noted that the U.N. official was in Tunis by invitation of President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

(Hammarskjold's letter, Couve wrote, "seems to me to expose the views of the Tunisian government."

(The French said they wanted peace talks soon "between the French and Tunisian authorities" and made no mention of U.N. mediation.)

Meeting Rejected

Before leaving Bizerte, Hammarskjold tried to see Vice Adm. Maurice Amman, commander of the French Bizerte base. The admiral said he refused the meeting on orders from Paris.

The French kept up their guard. Tough paratroopers in camouflage combat uniforms stopped and searched Hammarskjold's official limousine when he arrived from Tunis, 40 miles away.

"I've stopped being surprised by anything," Hammarskjold said.

In Bizerte, Hammarskjold saw French troops manning positions faced by Tunisians who have sworn to die to defend their country.

Hammarskjold had his first talks with French officials Wednesday. He met in Tunis with the French consul and, also, the British ambassador.

Hammarskjoid toured the white-walled city marked by more than 3 days of savage fighting. He did not go into the Arab quarter, the only section held by Tunisian troops.

Crowds of Tunisians cheered and clapped when Hammarskjold appeared.

Hammarskjold's arrival in Bizerte failed to produce any outward effects in soothing the tense situation. Both sides have strengthened their military positions since the fighting stopped Saturday.

SHOWERS MAY FALL THURSDAY

Partly cloudy and possible showers are Thursday's weather watchwords. Highs in the 80s are expected.

Southern Nebraskans can expect scattered showers and thunderstorms, the forecast said.

High temperature was McCook's 95.

Scotti's 16-Month Stay 'For Free' In Hospital Ended

St. Bride's, Eng. (UPI) — British authorities hoped they had seen the last of an Italian laborer who spent 16 months in a hospital under the government free national health plan complaining of a pain doctors said did not exist.

Detectives took 225-pound Romalo Scotti, 47, from his hospital bed, dressed him, placed him in a car and put him and an escort on a plane to Rome.

Scotti, working as a farm laborer in Britain, entered Kensington Hospital in St. Bride's 16 months ago and told doctors: "I have a pain."

Doctors found him physically fit and told him to go home. But Scotti insisted that he had a pain and stayed.

Since Scotti was an alien with no fixed address, he could not be deported. And he could not be denied the free hospital service Britain provides to everyone on its soil.

Government officials finally obtained an order for his deportation.

YOUTH SHEARS POWER POLES

A speeding Lincoln youth, 16, sheared off two power poles and uprooted several bushes in the Sheridan Blvd. median between 31st and Winthrop Rd. late Wednesday.

Police said the youth's car left approximately 400 feet of skid marks, indicating he was well in excess of the 35 mph speed limit going northwest on Sheridan.

'Gator Takes Over Swimming Hole

Miami Springs, Fla (UPI) —An 8-foot alligator ended the summer fun in a canal swimming hole when he snapped a boy's dog in half and charged up the bank after a policeman who shot him in the eye.

"I've seen a lot of gators, but he was sure the biggest. Eight feet is a conservative estimate," said policeman Dan Clark.

The alligator surfaced about 15 feet from where Butch Davey, 13, and Paul Becker, 12, were swimming with their dog, a neighborhood mongrel named Brownie.

"There was just this big splash and Brownie yelped once," said young Becker. "I looked and the alligator had most of Brownie in his mouth. He seemed to be trying to swallow him whole."

The Davey youth, who had been taking care of the dog, scrambled out of the canal with Becker right behind him. Clark ran to the scene when he heard the cries of Becker's sisters who were watching from the canal bank.

"The gator was trying to swim with the dog," Clark said. "When he was near the bank and I could take a shot safely, I fired straight down at him. I'm sure I hit him in the eye.

"He rolled over and disappeared under the water. A minute later, he surfaced and came right up the bank, charging me and snapping his jaws. Believe me, those were big jaws.

"I saw the hole and the blood where I shot him, but I was afraid to fire again because of the kids. But that charge must have been the gator's last effort. He flopped over and slid back in the water.

"A little while later," Clark said, "half the dog's body floated to the surface. The alligator never came up."

Police said they would try to keep youngsters from using the swimming hold, long a favorite one.

British Economy Drive Threatens Labor Strife

Protests Bellowed In Commons

By Patrick Massey

London (AP) — The government's new home economy drive stiffened the pound sterling on world markets Wednesday but touched off angry shouts in Parliament and threats of wage strife on the labor front.

Lloyd

Protests bellowed across the House of Commons when Selwyn Lloyd, chancellor of the exchequer, spoke in defense of the higher taxes and tighter credit policy he announced Tuesday.

Lloyd weathered the uproar calm and smiling. He proceeded to outline a vague 5-year plan intended to develop the nation's resources.

His program boosted taxes on a vast number of consumer goods ranging from cigarettes and beer to automobiles and bedsteads.

Interest Rate Soars

In addition he raised the Bank of England interest rate from 5 to 7% and thus imposed a strict clamp on instalment and mortgage spending.

The measures were intended to damp down domestic purchasing power and divert output to the export markets where the poor British showing lately has caused a drastic weakening of the pound.

When the British buy more abroad than they sell, the difference has to be made up in gold. Gold reserves have been dropping and the pound has lost confidence.

An initial result of Lloyd's program was that the pound gained strength during Wednesday's trading in comparison with the dollar and other currencies.

On the London stock market, an expected selling wave failed to materialize. Share prices at the close were generally firm though irregular, indicating that the business community had become reconciled to the program, which had long been expected.

Discontent Mounts

But a gust of discontent welled up in the press and among labor unions over the financial discomforts which now will affect almost every economic section of the country.

The unions gave strong indications that Lloyd's appeal for a stop to wage increases has little chance of acceptance in view of the higher cost of living now facing the working man.

Particularly bitter were the nation's teachers. They had been given promises of a 15½% increase in their average wage of $33 a week wage, but were told that this is now to be cut back.

Protest telegrams from teachers poured into the House of Commons.

3 Appointed To Tourism Group

York (AP) — District 2 of the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce has appointed 3 persons to a special committee to co-operate with the Legislative Council committee on tourist promotion.

Named were W. H. Penner of York, John Sanders of Auburn, and Joe R. Seacrest of Lincoln.

The invitation to name the committee came from Sen. H. K. Diers of Gresham, chairman of the Legislative Council.

Nebraska State Chamber Managing Director Charles Chace said he hoped each of the 6 districts would name such a committee.

Attending a District 2 meeting here were more than 50 chamber representatives from York, Broken Bow, Beaver Crossing, Nebraska City, Auburn, Falls City, Crete, North Platte, David City, Superior, Lincoln, Humboldt, Beatrice and Steinauer.

CB&Q Freights Ram At Lyons

Lyons (AP) — A Burlington freight train rammed another freight that was unloading gravel in the Burlington yards at Lyons Wednesday night. Two farm road crossings were blocked.

No injuries were reported.

The engine on the moving freight hit the caboose on the stopped train.

DRAFT . . . RESERVE

. . Here's How The Systems Work

By Elton C. Fay

Washington (AP) — Here is how the draft and reserve systems work out for men who may be affected by the mobilization program:

Youths register with selective service upon reaching their 18th birthday. A pool of men who already have received physical and mental examinations and are classified for service is maintained in the Selective Service System. From this pool are drawn men who fill the monthly draft quotas.

Under the law, it is possible to examine and put men in pools when they reach their 18th birthday. However, since the end of the Korean War, the average pool age has been higher, now about 23 years. It could be lowered again under the new mobilization program.

Gradual Steps

Both draftees and volunteers have military obligations which carry them on into the ready, and then the standby, reserves upon completing periods of active duty.

If a draftee or volunteer was under 26 years of age when the Reserve Forces Act became law in 1955, his obligations totals 6 years—2 of active service, 2 in the ready reserves, 2 in the standby reserves.

If he volunteered between the ages of 17 and 18½ years, his total time would be 8 years — 6 months active duty; 3 years in the ready reserves; 4½ years in the standby.

If, while in the 18½ through 25 age bracket, he volunteers, his total obligation would be 6 years, of which 6 months would be active duty, the rest ready reserve.

The law says that graduates of Reserve Officer Training schools have a 6 to 8-year obligation. Those needed by the armed forces serve 2 years active duty followed by 3 in the ready reserves. All others serve 6 months of active duty for training and 7½ years in the ready reserve.

48 Drill Periods

In the ready reserve, a man is expected to engage in 48 scheduled drills or training periods and not more than 17 days of active duty training annually. Active duty of a ready reservist can be extended in two ways: (1) Under presidential proclamation of a national emergency (or in actual wartime) and (2) under declaration of emergency by Congress.

Standby status in which reservists ultimately arrive requires no active participation in training. Essentially, it merely is a list of names. However, standby reservists can be called, involuntarily, to active duty as a result of congressional action.

So far, President Kennedy is making no move to call in Army National Guard units. The Defense Department interprets the National Guard to be a "ready reserve" organization. Thus the obligation. And age groups are the same as those for the reserve forces.

VENEZUELA WITHDRAWS ITS ENVOY FROM HAVANA

Caracas, Venezuela (UP)— Venezuela withdrew its charge d'affairs from Havana Wednesday at Cuba's request and a government statement said the action brought relations between the two countries to a "precarious stage."

The government defended the conduct of Charge Alfonso J. Zurbaran Trejo. It explained he was transferred "so that his continued presence in Havana cannot be used as a pretext (by Cuba) to refuse safe conducts to political refugees" harbored in the Venezuelan Embassy in the Cuban capital.

Only one of 206 Cuban refugees granted political asylum by the Venezuelan Embassy has been permitted to leave Cuba since mid-April. Cuba has violated several promises to grant them safe-conduct permits, the Venezuelan statement said.

Hijacker Is Charged In Absentia

Oquendo's Miami Wife Is Perplexed

Miami, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban-born waiter at resort hotels, whose wife thought he was a loyal American, was booked in absentia Wednesday as the man who hijacked an airliner and forced the pilot to land in Havana.

Oquendo

The FBI said that Wilfredo Roman Oquendo, 36, was a secret policeman in Cuba during the regime of ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras, and now is a member of Fidel Castro's 26th of July Movement.

But Mrs. Oquendo denied to a newsman that her husband had been a secret policeman from 1948 until Fulgencio Baduring Prio's presidency, from 1948 until Fulgencio Batista ousted Prio in 1952.

Claims Ignorance

The 30-year-old housewife said she did not know her husband was the man accused of hijacking the plane until she heard his name on the radio Wednesday. She said she hadn't seen him since Friday.

"He loved this country so much, but about 6 months ago he became a completely different person; I don't know what happened," she said crying.

Mrs. Oquendo added that her husband had provided for his family until the change took place and then had stopped bringing home his pay from his job at a Miami Beach hotel.

Oquendo is a naturalized citizen of the United States and has lived here for 15 years, although he has visited Cuba frequently. His wife has been here for 12 years, but is not a citizen.

She lives with her 2-year-old son and 9-year-old daughter in a rundown, one-bedroom single-story home.

Police Clash With Cubans In New York

New York (AP) — Police, mounted and on foot, clashed outside the United Nations Wednesday with Cubans celebrating the 8th anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolutionary movement. Six persons were arrested but there were no injuries.

The clash was reminiscent of street brawls that broke out here last fall during Castro's visit to New York for the United Nations meeting.

Special police details had been spotted about the city earlier in the day in anticipation of possible anniversary disorders.

Parade Quietly

About 200 pro-Castro Cubans paraded quietly for about two hours in front of U.N. headquarters. They chanted such slogans as "Hands Off Cuba."

Then, as they prepared to disband, a patrolman sought to hasten one woman picket from the scene. A male picket intervened and about 20 other demonstrators converged on the officer, trying to wrest the pair from his grasp.

County May Give Park Fund A $5,000 Starter

The county may appropriate $5,000 to start a fund for park development along the Interstate access route to Lincoln, according to indications of Lancaster County Commissioners Wednesday.

Board members also indicated they may levy .04 mill to raise approximately $10,000 for free library service to rural residents.

The comments were made following a public hearing Wednesday on the 1961-62 fiscal year budget.

The park funds pleas were made at the hearing by architect L. A. Enersen; John Lawlor, president of the Downtown Development Corp., and Chauncey Barney, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce streets and highways committee.

Barney pointed out that the area proposed for park development lies generally on both sides of 9th and 10th and around the Interstate interchange north of Belmont.

Joint Board

He also suggested the commissioners consider a joint park board with the city in view of the passage of LB624, which gives the county authority to develop the area.

Lawlor emphasized the importance of the beautification of the entrance to the Capital City.

Lindoln Libraries Director Charles Dalrymple and board president George Holyoke renewed their plea for funds to eliminate the $6 library fee for each rural resident user.

Former Commissioner Chris Kuhner also appeared before the board and pointed out that higher valuations should take care of additional county expenses.

The commissioners are expected to adopt a budget after Aug. 8.

Cadillac Buying Farmer Exception To The Rule

. . . $390 Average Payment Due To Nebraskans

Washington (AP)—The New York farmer who reported he bought a Cadillac with the money the government paid him for idling corn land is an exception in his own state as well as in the nation.

Agriculture department reports show that the payment of $6,712 to William L. Smith of Big Flats, N.Y., compares with an average of only $181 for farmers in his own state taking part in the Kennedy administration's emergency feed grain program.

Under this program, farmers get payments and increased price supports for cutting this year's acreages of corn and sorghum grain at least 20 per cent. The purpose of the program is to halt costly accumulation of feed grain surpluses, now at a record high level.

The New York farmer is retiring 104 acres of corn land compared with an average of about 12 for all farms in his state taking part in the program.

Iowa Payment $428

Payments under the program will average larger in the midwest corn belt than outside that area. Iowa payments, for example, will average about $428 compared with the New York average of $181. The Illinois average will be about $381, the Missouri $380, Nebraska $390, Indiana $360, Ohio $310, and Kansas $270.

Outside the corn belt, the payments will average about $190 in Pennsylvania and $140 in North Carolina and $125 in Virginia.

The average amount of land being retired per farm runs higher in the corn belt than elsewhere. This average is about 27 acres in Iowa, or more than double the New York average. For other states it is 22 in Illinois, 17 in Ohio, 31 in Nebraska, 25 in Missouri, 24 in Minnesota, 20 in Indiana, 17 in Ohio and 11 in Pennsylvania.

The size of the payments to individual farms is determined by 3 factors—(1) the number of acres retired; (2) the normal yield of corn or sorghum of the retired acres, and (3) the government support rate for these grains in the county in which the land is located.

The payment on the first 20% of a farm's corn or sorghum land is determined by multiplying half the normal yield of the land by the county price support rate. The payment on retired land above 20% is determined by multiplying 60% of the normal yield by the price support rate.

Hence, a farm with a high acre yield in an area where the price support rate is highest will get a larger payment per acre of land idled than one with a low acreage yield in a low price support rate.

Price supports are highest in areas of deficit freed grain production and lowest in areas of surplus production.

Glider Ace Caught By 'Shot Down' Feeling

By Gene Budig

Ever had that "shot-down" feeling?

If so, you'll understand the mood of Bob Fisher, glider pilot.

Bob is the guy who's attempting to soar his way across the United States.

But, Mother Nature again took the air from his flaps Wednesday afternoon.

A lack of "lifting air current" forced the combination farmer-glider pilot to land at Union Airport.

He has hopes of getting airborne by noon Thursday. Present plans chart a western Iowa landing late in the day.

The forecast looks promising.

'Likes' Nebraska

Being afoot in Nebraska, however, is nothing new for the Moses Lake, Wash., corn farmer who started Wednesday afternoon's trip from York at 3:12. Shortage of lifting air current has skept the shiny, aluminum bird in the state for nearly two weeks.

"You have some real uncooperative weather," Fisher said, adding that he had been grounded in Idaho for 3 days, too. The cross-country jaunt started from Seattle on June 30.

So far, he has soared nearly 1,500 miles, over half of the trip.

Cheering Section

About the only thing Bob found to smile over Wednesday was his traveling rooting team, composed of his wife, Wrenny; sons, Danny, 13, and Dickie, 9; his nephew, Tom, 17; the family dog, Rags; and his tow-pilot, Dave Hensel, an engineer with Boeing.

All but Hensel chart the gliding progress from the ground. Hensel keeps tabs with his plane's two-way radio.

"We're all getting a little anxious to get this trip over with and land the glider somewhere near New York City," the pilot said.

Originally, the excursion was to have lasted only a month. Now it looks more like a 6-week project.

A veteran of more than 5,000 sail-plane hours, Bob said: "It all depends on the weather. One day we sailed for 345 miles in 8 hours. Two other times we sailed over 200 miles."

The motive for his determination is a simple one. "I want to show people that gliding is a sport of fun and safety."

Already, his motive has won a convert — his son Danny. But Danny will have to wait until Feb. 14 before spreading wings. Minimum age for glider pilots is 14.

3 A.M. Knocker Is Cop, Not 'Some Kind Of Nut'

Orange, N.J. (UPI) — What would you think if someone knocked at your door at 2 a.m. and said he was a policeman?

"I thought it was some kind of nut or something," said Mrs. Phyllis Clark, 23.

But it was a policeman and he had a warrant for her arrest. The charge: failing to pay a $1 overtime parking meter fine.

The ticket was issued in Morristown, N.J., May 17 and was returnable May 25. Morristown police said a delinquent notice was mailed to the Clarks June 19 but wasn't answered.

Mrs. Clark said she never received the notice. The original ticket had been "stuck away in a desk drawer" and forgotten.

But in this area of the United States, "forgetting" is no excuse. It was in neighboring East Orange a few months ago that police made similar pre-dawn raids on notorious book readers who failed to return their loans from city libraries.

Mrs. Clark and her husband, John, also 23, a radio announcer, were hustled down to police headquarters here early Wednesday. They were told that Mrs. Clark would have to spend the night in jail if she couldn't raise $10 bail.

"We had just gotten back from Cape Cod and we didn't have $2 cash between us," Mrs. Clark said. The police wouldn't take a check.

Mrs. Clark said she called her grandfather, who lives in nearby West Orange, and he put up the bail money.

Home At 4

It was 4 a.m. before the Clarks finally were allowed to go home.

Clark went up to Morristown later in the day and paid the fine. It cost him $4.

Eleven other residents were awakened in the pre-dawn hours and hauled into police headquarters on charges of not answering parking violations summonses. Nine appeared in court Wednesday night and one of them, William Barnes, 37, who had been ill, collapsed. He was taken to Orange Memorial Hospital for treatment and discharged.

OMAHA GIRL, 7, DROWNS IN SWIM POOL

Omaha (UPI) — A 7-year-old Omaha girl drowned Wednesday in the Peony Park swimming pool here.

She was identified as Mary Sticka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sticka of Omaha.

Pool manager Harlan White said the girl had apparently been underwater for about 20 minutes. She was discovered by a 17-year-old girl who ran for help.

A lifeguard gave the girl mouth-to-mouth respiration and firemen worked over the child for nearly 20 minutes at the scene.

Terry Carpenter Out Of Hospital

Scottsbluff (UPI)—Terry Carpenter, former state senator, returned home Wednesday after a day and a half in the hospital.

Carpenter became overheated in the sun Monday afternoon, his family said, but was "coming along fine" Wednesday following release from the hospital.

RACERS JAILED

Two cars racing at 65 miles per hour down Capital Pkwy. between D and A were stopped late Wednesday by police. Officers jailed two Lincoln youths, 19 and 21.

Touring County Agents Visit U Of N Tractor Testing Lab

Visitors to the University of Nebraska's famed tractor testing laboratory Wednesday were 13 county Extension agents from north central states, winding up their Dow study tour of the north central region.

In an attempt to study and tour agri-business developments, the group began the tour 3 weeks ago in Des Moines. From Iowa the agents moved on to Minnesota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

Serving as tour leader is Vernon Hinz, county Extension director from Kalamazoo, Mich. Nebraska's representative in the group is Walter White of Grant, Perkins County agent.

In the Alma, Neb., area the group toured the Harlan County Reservoir, as guests of the Army Engineers Corps, the Wayne Imm farm and the Keith Kauk's dairy farm. At Hastings the group inspected the Western Land Roller Co. and Morrison-Quirk alfalfa plant.

Final features of the Nebraska tour Thursday will include a dairy farm at Valley, Boys Town and the Omaha Stock Yards.

Iowa Coeds Can Stay Out Later

Iowa City (AP) — Coeds at the State University of Iowa next fall can stay out on week nights until 11 p.m. if they are freshmen, and midnight if they are upper classmen, it was announced Wednesday.

The curfew hour for all coeds on Friday and Saturday nights will be 1 a.m.

Dryland Corn Must Have Rain

York (UPI) — Rain is badly needed to save dryland corn in York County, Horace Wright, Benedict farmer and former county commissioner, said.

Scholarships To 4 Cornhuskers

Four Nebraska students have been awarded 1961 National Foundation health scholarships from the March of Dimes, according to national president Basil O'Connor.

Included in the more than 500 national winners are Patti Lea Mesner, Papillion; Jimmie Ellis Banta, Morrill; Monte Clifton Nowak, Grant, and Antony Michael Rumer, Lisco.

The awards have been made available for 3 years to outstanding students who have chosen careers in health fields.

Plan Outlined To Eliminate Big Pay Hikes

Omaha (AP)—Sheriff Patrick Corrigan outlined a plan Wednesday under which large pay increases can be eliminated to the 41 deputies in his office.

The pay boosts, totaling about $58,000 a year, were authorized by a clause in LB 373 stating that deputy sheriffs were to receive 75% as much salary as the office holders.

Corrigan told the Douglas Country Board his plan calls for only 5 full-time deputies. The other 36 men currently serving as deputies will be designated as "part-time deputies," the sheriff said.

The sheriff said the county attorney had ruled the plan was legal. To fulfill the pay raise requirement, he added, the 5 full-time deputies will receive substantial raises.

The county board has up for consideration a budget of $7,863,488. The general fund portion of the budget, raised by a mill levy against property, totals $3,393,723, up $238,269 from the current budget.

G. B. Rule, Omaha Insurance Man, Dies

Omaha (AP)— Funeral arrangements were pending Wednesday for Grage B. Rule, 51, budget director of United of Omaha the past 5 years.

Born in Council Bluffs, he attended Thomas Jefferson High School and Chillicothe (Mo.) Business College.

1,400 Come Out For LAFB Variety Show

A crowd of nearly 1,400 attended the Lincoln Air Force Base variety program at Pinewood Bowl Wednesday night.

One of the program's outstanding attractions was lyric soprano Mrs. Marion Lucas, appearing for the first time on a Capital City stage.

Distinction In Berlin

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The President's message on Berlin was a clear and understandable analysis of this nation's position in Germany as well as around the world. He spoke not just of peace, but of peace and freedom because the United States will never accept one without the other. They are, in fact, inseparable for any nation, be it a democracy or totalitarian state. The only difference is that in the latter, the freedom applies to only a few, while in the former, it is enjoyed by all.

President Kennedy's distinction here is an important one because it underscores the fact that we cannot merely take care of our own needs and find the kind of life we all want. There is a price on peace and the price is always changing. Berlin is the immediate price but as the President said, Berlin is not just an isolated part of the Western world. It represents the entire struggle between the communistic and democratic ideologies and for this reason it cannot be compromised. The President's words were simple in that they pointed out the fundamental reasons for our absolute defense of Berlin as a free city.

Necessity Of Defense

He made it quite clear that in his thinking we cannot permit Berlin to be lost and still continue our battle with communism. If we lose Berlin we have lost the battle because we will have set the pattern for almost certain Russian conquest of all of Europe, Asia and eventually our own continent.

With our World War II rights, we are as entitled to be in Berlin and to participate in the final settlement of the whole question of Germany as we are entitled to be on our own land. If Russia can force us out of Berlin, she can force us out of our commitments throughout Europe, in Asia, the Middle East, Africa and everywhere we have pledged our resources to the defense of freedom.

In effect, we have no choice in this matter. If what it takes to defend Berlin is enough to pull us under, then that is that and things are finished. But no one believes that this is the case or that it will necessarily come to this. We are not yet at war in Germany, and Russia has still to determine if the world will go to war over the issues that face us all in Berlin. But while we entertain these hopes of a peaceful settlement of this issue, we should remember that Russia, too, sees conditions in much the same light.

This is the thing which Kennedy tried to recognize and which makes the situation such a critical one. Premier Khrushchev also sees Berlin as a testing ground between the East and West. He, too, may decide that to back down now means surrender and that the cause of communism could not absorb such a blow. But there are some differences which we all hope Mr. Khrushchev recognizes. His position is not quite the same as ours. At the moment, the question is whether conditions in Germany remain the same or are changed. With this question, we have everything to lose and nothing to gain. Russia, on the other hand, because the changes are those suggested by her, has nothing to lose but everything to gain from a settlement of this question.

Therefore, if the present crisis in Berlin is hurdled without an outbreak of hostilities, Russia has lost nothing and East and West can proceed to the next plateau of negotiations. And President Kennedy has spoken hopefully of negotiation as the answer to things in Germany. He spoke of this while recognizing the natural anxieties of Russia over the protection of her frontiers and safety against European powers in general.

Some commentators have asked what it is Kennedy feels is negotiable. The answer to this is simple. He does not intend to negotiate our rights to be in Berlin or whether or not we shall get out of Berlin. That question is not negotiable and that is where our firm and unalterable stand is being taken.

What is negotiable are the conditions under which we might some day no longer be in Berlin. As things now stand, these conditions call for free elections for a unified Germany but the plans for this cover a tremendous area. Certainly, the United States would not only be willing but would want to provide safeguards against any eventual build-up of Germany as a major military power again in Europe. But we do not intend to be a party to a wartime settlement which forever divides a nation and reduces it for all time to a state of mediocrity. Russia does not want just safety from Germany, she wants German slavery.

Negotiable Items

Kennedy's message should have gone a long way toward preparing the American people for whatever happens in Berlin and toward a better understanding by all people of the struggle we face with communism throughout the world. Also, it should cause the Kremlin to think again before it lights in Berlin the fuse of what would certainly be all-out war.

"Give Me Another Helping, Comrade——I've Had A Hard Day Nagging You"

DREW PEARSON

LBJ Works Hard At Foreign Relations

WASHINGTON — Nancy Hanschman, the beautiful CBS news sleuth, was regaling a dinner party at the home of Sen. Mike Monroney, Oklahoma Democrat, on her trip around the world with the vice president of the United States, better known as LBJ. She had her audience in stitches.

"At the Taj Mahal, at the request of a sound man," said Miss Hanschman, "he let out one of these blood-curdling Texas war whoops. You could see our new ambassador, Ken Galbraith, a Harvard professor, shudder.

"Then," continued Nancy, "he suddenly bussed Lady Bird. The Taj Mahal was built in honor of love so the vice president bends Lady Bird's back over, bussing her. And this was not for the benefit of the photographers. This was in dead earnest.

"However," concluded Miss Hanschman, who is as accurate as she is attractive, "the interesting fact was that the Indians loved it. This was a real American. Through all the Texas frills they could see his sincerity and his democracy. They could see that in Johnson they had a friend. This was true all along the way. The hand-shaking paid off. I've been on a lot of trips with a lot of VIP's but this was the hardest-working and the most successful I've ever been on."

There is no question but that Johnson worked on his trip and that it was successful. In Saigon, now the center of an intensive communist guerilla drive against the West, Johnson didn't take off his clothes for twenty-four hours, kept his staff working all night. Yet it was only a few years ago that Lyndon suffered a massive cardiac.

☆ ☆ ☆

Much more important, this writer has observed that Lyndon has kept working at the problems of his trip long after returning from his trip. For most VIP's, this is unusual. When Adlai Stevenson returned from South America last month he declined to discuss Latin-America problems with some of the ambassadors in Washington who wanted to see him, he said his Latin-American trip was over; went to Europe. And when Vice President Nixon came back from his various trips there was very little follow-through.

But Johnson has tackled the problems of Asia and Africa—and they are deep and difficult—with the same energy he tackled the problems of legislation when Senate majority leader.

Lyndon, incidentally, has retired from any position as coach to Sen. Mike Mansfield —first, because Mansfield has been doing a quiet and efficient job as Democratic leader without him; second, because Lyndon has got busy with other things.

What he's concentrated on is the biggest problem in the world—poverty—in the most poverty-stricken and dangerous part of the world.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any danger of a baby's weight causing it to be bandy-legged or bow-legged in later years as a result of trying to walk too early? By 'too early' I mean nine months. — A.B.R."

Dr. Molner

No. Adults may do all sorts of idiotic things, but tiny babies don't. They rely on their instincts which, over the centuries, have become extremely reliable guides.

The age at which a baby ought to start walking varies a great deal, depending on the weight, development and subtle but sure inclinations of an infant.

Some babies start walking, or getting up uncertainly on their legs, sooner than nine months. Others wisely won't try it until they are a year old, or frequently a good deal later.

Why? Because some are ready early and some aren't ready until later. I sometimes wince at the futility of parents who try to force things, and keep trying to hold a baby up and "make him walk" when the baby knows that he isn't ready yet, so he just lets his legs fold up under him. I dare say that the baby's good sense thus prevents any damage to his little legs.

But when a baby, in such circumstances, puts his feet down and tries to hold his weight, he's ready!

No, I don't think babies ever become bow-legged from trying to stand up too soon. If he isn't ready to try, he just won't.

Have you ever watched a litter of new kittens? In a day or two or three, some of them will start scrambling around, trying to walk. Other in the litter won't try that soon. Their furry little legs go in all directions. After a step or two, they fall flat on their little stomachs. They (being cats) start trying very early in life. But did you ever see a bow-legged cat?

Bow-legs exist, it is true. But the main reason is a deficiency in diet, and with modern food distributing, refrigeration and all that, bow legs are becoming rarer and rarer.

A healthy mother, breast-feeding a baby, will provide plenty of calcium for strong bones. But even with the so-called "civilized" bottle feeding, a reasonable amount of care furnishes strong bones.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of a scar on the lung? I have heard of a spot on a lung but not a scar. Is it serious?—F. S."

A "spot on the lung" is something that can be detected by X-ray. It may—or may not—be a scar. Put it this way: Any sort of injury anywhere can leave a scar. This includes the lungs. Any number of things can scar a lung—TB, fungus infection, histoplasmosis, an actual wound, and the like. Whatever the cause, if it heals but leaves a scar, a small one isn't going to hurt.

On the other hand, when a doctor finds, for the first time, a "spot"—which may or may not be a scar—he keeps watch, and may do certain tests to ascertain its nature. If a subsequent X-ray shows any variation in the "spot," as to size, etc., close follow-up is essential because a changing lesion can be an active one. But if, year after year, a scar doesn't change, there's no reason to fret about it.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Some time ago I noticed a letter from a woman whose husband was troubled by bad foot odor. My husband had this trouble. He used to bathe his feet every day, put on clean boiled socks every morning, and tried so many remedies, even the strong prescription of the Army doctor at Fort Warren in 1898.

"He didn't cure it until 1911 when a man he worked with advised that he powder his feet every day with boric acid. It was a permanent cure.—A. P."

Above letter is interesting in several ways. The problem of odor can be extremely stubborn at times, no matter how clean the person is in the soap-and-water sense.

This is because the trouble often stems in large part from the presence and activity of bacteria which, while they may be harmless enough, cling to the skin and keep invisibly at work. Soap and water may not be able to dislodge all of them—and those remaining quickly multiply again. Moisture encourages this.

I have some reservations about the boric acid. There have been proven cases, largely with infants, I believe, but with adults, too, of boric acid being absorbed through the skin. Some medical people feel very strongly about this and even object to having boric acid in dispensaries.

So I decline to recommend its use. Other products are available to serve the same purpose. For foot odor, I suggest use of some of the prepared foot powders that are on the market. They combat moisture, and at the same time destroy bacteria. I am rather of the opinion that too many persons, struggling with this problem, do not realize how important foot powder can be, in addition, of course, to washing, wearing fresh socks daily or twice a day, and changing shoes every day.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Withholding Tax Proposal

The House Ways and Means Committee has acted favorably on the administration's proposal to make dividends subject to withholding tax. It is not often that the House goes contrary to the committee's position and that would lead one to believe that the proposal has a good chance of becoming a law.

There has been strenuous resistance to withholding dividends, and one of the main reasons given was the burden of time and cost on the corporations. They would be required to do all the spade work, remitting the tax to the government and supplying the dividend beneficiaries with the needed information for their own income tax reports. Much of this objection has been removed by a uniform deduction plan of 16 2/5 per cent. The balance of the tax would be subject to computation in line with the respective rates of the individual dividend receivers.

There is merit in this. The government is currently losing an estimated $500 million a year through carelessness or intent on the part of taxpayers. Withholding would simplify the audit of individual tax returns. The purpose of the tax law is not to catch shortages, but to derive the public revenue fairly and equitably, and most economically.

Wage earners and salaried people have been on withholding now for many years and it is palpably a good and fair method and probably the only one that is satisfactory both to the government and to the individual taxpayers. Should the dividend withholding tax become a law it is a good bet that most of the objections to it will evaporate.

Time To Act

The grounds of Mount Vernon sweep gracefully down to the shore of the Potomac, and across the river on the Maryland side are woods and fields. The vista has continued over the years and visitors today can share the view that once brought peace and pleasure to the soul of George Washington. Many have felt this sharing upon visits to Mount Vernon. There is more to it than just the prospect of the wide sweep of nature in its total beauty and grace. It is an ineffable legacy that should never be changed. But it may be changed.

Of all things, a sewage disposal plant is being planned for the Maryland shore. Washington continues to grow and it has disposal problems. These may vex the managers of the city. But they should be reminded they are not the owners of the city. In spirit Mount Vernon, exactly as it is and was, still belongs to the father of the country. And equally important it belongs to every American, whose feeling will be that while a disposal plant may be necessary it belongs somewhere else.

Public opinion may have the opportunity to express itself forcibly enough to prevent this particular instance, but a good deal of the Maryland shore is not public property and unless something is done to make it so there will be further examples. It is timely that Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, of New Mexico, and Reps. John P. Saylor, of Pennsylvania, and Wayne N. Aspinwall, of Colorado, are sponsoring a bill which would provide for government ownership of the Maryland ground to include it in the whole of Mount Vernon as a memorial park.

Alert citizens will be quick to express their favor of this move in letters to these thoughtful sponsors. And they will communicate also with the members of the Nebraska congressional delegation asking vigorous support of the measure.

From Bad To Worse

By way of rates, at least, Lincoln's bus service keeps going from bad to worse. There is no end to the circle which sees a passenger decline and then a rate increase followed by another passenger decline and then a rate increase. Which came first has lost its importance now but one surely follows the other as night follows day.

Now, the Lincoln City Lines has shown the City Council a proposal for zone fares which will up the price of a bus ride in some cases from 15 to 25 cents. One councilman showed a sort of fatalistic attitude toward the proposal when he said that "the city could run its own transit company, but it can't afford that either."

The City Council may not want to get into this subject very deeply because it is certainly not a pleasant one but the fact is that it may very well be able to afford to run its own transit system. It is quite possible that this would be a much more economical and smart thing for the city to do. Eventually, things are going to reach the saturation point where not even a rate hike can save the declining transit business.

Then, the city will inherit this problem and it will be even more acute from passenger loss than it is today. It might well be smart for the city to consider ownership of the lines before their passenger loss has become a hopeless situation. By one gimmick or another, the main thing involved is tax exemption as a subsidy for the failing business.

It may be a dressed-up plan of city ownership and private management by contract or something else but it all boils down to a subsidy. As we said, maybe the city isn't willing to look at this seriously until it is forced to but this may prove to be a costly bit of unreality. How much further than 25 cents can the rates go and still have anybody riding the buses?

Foreign Aid Bill Needs GOP Help

WASHINGTON—Senate debate on the foreign aid bill starts next week, with its managers conceding they will need eight to 10 Republican votes to put across its major provisions. As of now, they are reasonably sure of only six.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen is the key figure. He has been conciliatory on the issue, and former President Eisenhower has urged that course on him. Dirksen likes the President, which is always helpful.

Some of the Republican supporters of the administration bill have already suggested certain compromises to make the bill reported by the Foreign Relations Committee more attractive to their side of the aisle. This is appreciated, but it is felt that these members speak for themselves while Dirksen has the needed influence with his colleagues.

The problem of lining up some votes from the opposition always requires delicate handling. It is presently complicated for Democratic leaders by what they have come to view as the political necessity of combatting the Republican right-wing demands for stronger action and "total victory."

☆ ☆ ☆

In this area, Sen. J. W. Fulbright has already teed off on Sen. Barry Goldwater. How, asked Fulbright, does Goldwater propose to achieve that total victory—is it by nuclear war, brilliant diplomacy or unanswerable logic? For himself, Fulbright gave the Kennedy answer that what is needed is long-range intervention in depth, hard, tiring and expensive though it may be.

Administration strategists have arranged a meeting with other able debaters in their Senate majority. The aim is to impress upon them the necessity for defending the Kennedy policy at all points and challenging its detractors.

Such a course, it is argued, will not offend Republican moderates but, on the contrary, help them by putting the extremists of their party on the defensive.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is generally agreed that unless the foreign aid bill survives strongly in the Senate, it may wither and even die in the more conservative House. This would be a sad blow to the President; coming on top of extinction of the education bill, which he also presented as a foundation stone for an effective foreign policy.

Kennedy sets his sights high in foreign aid, both in the amount asked and his proposal for direct Treasury grants to finance five-year, low-interest development loans to underdeveloped nations. For once Republicans are more concerned about the latter than the strictly spending aspect, which is usually their main complaint.

Five years would put the program to a large extent out of the 1962 and 1964 elections, which Republicans now think they have a chance of winning. That this would aid the President in his conduct of foreign policy is obvious; it is felt by his advisors that it is far more sound financially.

Not Backward

Raymond, Neb.

The community of Raymond would like to answer The Star's news article, "New City Water System Delight of Housewives."

First, we wonder how it was figured that it is a necessity to others and a luxury to us to have "piped running water." Is this not still a "classless society" in these United States of America?

Raymond can boast of having reared and educated people who now fill or have filled the following stations in life: judges, lawyers, doctors, county commissioners, members of the State Game Commission, U. S. land officers, lab technicians, county sheriffs, teachers, bankers, business managers, colonels and many other useful positions.

Although our village is quite small, here are some statistics on it. To 50-some residences and business places in Raymond, "piped running water" is not a new experience. To be exact, there are four pump handles in the village. Even the picture used, which by the way is not in the village, depicts power-pumping.

If and when we discard our oil-burning lamps and buffalo chip stoves, learn to wear shoes and enjoy the luxuries of life, we'll inform everyone.

Voting Habits

Lincoln, Neb.

Gov. Morrison is right as rain on the short ballot. I am sure thousands of voters come out of the voting booth feeling ashamed of voting for so many people who are only names. We vote not for a specific candidate for an office but for a Scandinavian or a Bohemian or an Irishman. We have seen the grotesque results more than once in recent years.

Too often we have watched the unseemly and damaging disputes between the governor and the attorney general, for instance. Particularly has this been true when the attorney general belonged to the opposite party and wanted to damage the governor. The governor, as the chief law-enforcement officer of the state, needs and deserves the close co-operation of the attorney general.

One of the chief reasons why the federal government has more power, efficiency and flexibility than state governments is because of the unity and harmony of administration. The Fathers of the Constitution saw the point of this in 1787 and concentrated the power of the federal government in the hands of a few men fully responsible to the electorate. In contrast to this, our state governments frequently seem to be running three-legged races.

People who believe in "democracy" are deceiving only themselves when they imagine that voting for a list of names gives a voter authority over his government. Fifty per cent of Nebraska voters fail to vote. Probably a larger per cent than that vote in almost complete ignorance on the majority of the people on the ballot.

Voters would have more control over their government if they concentrated their attention on fewer offices with more power. As in the case of the national government, that plan would fix responsibility which is the first essential in a democracy.

King Of Nebraska

Lincoln, Neb.

I must make this statement in pungent language. I want to compliment ex-Gov. Cochran for his disagreement with Gov. Morrison relative to the appointment of all executive department officers who are now elected to office. Whenever we take away the voting privilege from the people, then we are paving the way for dictatorship. How inconsistent can one get unless he would want to be the king of Nebraska?

We have a one-house legislature, the only one in the nation. Perhaps someone would like to be the king of Nebraska; then we'd be the only state in the nation with a king.

I am positive that we have enough Republicans and Democrats with good judgment for the future and that the suggestion made by Gov. Morrison will have little effect on intelligent people.

Ex-County Commissioner

Uninvited Criticism By Outsiders Is Unwelcome

By Robert Peterson

A parent can criticize his child, but woe betide the outsider who casts aspersions on the offspring. A few weeks ago I quoted a retired woman of limited means who told me of an excessive fee insisted upon by her physician. I pointed out that such instances were rare and that most medics are considerate of a patient's finances. But several physicians promptly assailed me for even writing such a thing. Now I note that President Leonard W. Larson at the annual AMA conference last month admitted that fees and actions of a small minority of physicians are open to criticism, adding that the association's disciplinary committee, ". . . must concern itself with ethical violations of members who engage in . . . fee splitting . . . overcharging, and abuse of health insurance."

A wry form of humor in the geriatric set is for women to send a card of sympathy to friends whose husbands retire. A woman whose husband recently collected his gold watch has forwarded for my inspection a card sent her by 7 old friends, all of whom have husbands who are retired. The card is edged in black and says simply, "With Deepest Sympathy." Seems most women love their husbands but don't relish having him underfoot 24 hours a day when he retires.

In a recent column I contended that the simple device of compound interest permits a person to double his money by doing nothing more spectacular than salting away his shekels in a savings bank, several readers have written to say they just don't believe it. So I've checked with my banker and he says it's true.

Here's the way it works: starting at the age of 21 start putting 5 dollars a week into a bank that pays 3% interest, compounded semi-annually. By the time you are 65 your accumulation will total $11,000 in actual savings, plus interest earning of $11,375, giving you a grand total of $22,375.

Premier Khrushchev sounded off the other day, boasting that the day will come when people of the Soviet Union work only 4 hours a day. He seemed to think that this was some splendid goal which would bring the ultimate satisfaction to men and women of his domain. But what would people do with their time if this goal were achieved? If you take work away from people they become largely dependent on recreational or creative activities. Or they become bored and listless. And experience has shown that most people deprived of work fall into the latter category.

If the present trend toward automation and labor saving devices continues, it is possible that work as we know it today may someday become obsolete. But when that eventuality materializes in some distant century we can assume that schools and universities will have the populace educated to an appreciation of nonwork pursuits which will offer the same emotional rewards as were derived from honest toil in the dear days of the twentieth century.

ANGEL

"I'm sent here to learn grace and poise and to get me away from the house!"

Chick Output May Climb 7%

The number of chickens raised on Nebraska farms in 1961 is expected to be 7% above last year, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

The preliminary estimate of 10,077,000 chickens raised compares with the record low of 9,418,000 raised in 1960 and the 10-year (1950-59) average of 17,038,000.

Egg-type chicks hatched January through June, 1961, totaled 16,117,000—4% above the same period last year.

Egg prices strengthened in the fall of 1960 and in mid-December were averaging about 11 cents a dozen above the same date in 1959. This, coupled with mild weather the first months of 1961, increased the interest in obtaining replacement chicks.

The 1961 January-April egg-type hatch was up 36% from the same period in 1960. However, a substantial decrease in prices received for eggs in March and April caused the combined May and June hatch to be off 34% from the corresponding 1960 hatch.

This decrease in late purchases was not enough to completely offset the earlier increase.

This estimate is based on reports as of June 1 obtained through the co-operation of rural carriers distributing survey cards and supplemented by later information from crop correspondents and reports from commercial hatcheries.

DORNHOFF, KOTOUC GET TOP GRADES

Two University of Nebraska undergraduate students last school year turned a theoretical possibility into reality—they scored the highest scholastic grades, "straight 9's," for two consecutive semesters in full loads of course work.

They are:

Larry L. Dornhoff, 19, a mathematics major, who will be a senior this fall. Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dornhoff of Heartwell.

Thomas Kotouc, 19, pre-law, who will be a sophomore this fall. Tom is a third-generation member of his family at the University. Both of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kotouc Jr., of Humboldt, are graduates as is his grandfather, Otto Kotouc Sr., also of Humboldt.

Two other full-time undergraduates scored straight 9's during the second semester of the school year. They are:

Duane G. Koenig, 27, father of four and premedical student. Now a Lincoln resident, Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Koenig of Beatrice.

David R. McConahay, 22, a premedical student who graduated with honors in June, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. McConahay of Holdrege.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin termed the scholastic achievements of all 4 "superb," and added, "Not only their families but the entire state should be proud of them for this demonstration of excellence."

Total Lincoln Tax Bite May Take $3.06 More

By Virgil Falloon

Lincolnites' 1961 tax bill may increase as much as $3.06 for each $1,000 assessed property valuation for a total of $84.45. Last year's hike was 3.83 mills.

Largest individual increase indicated is the probable two-mill hike by the Lincoln School District.

Only the Sanitary District has set its levy — one-half mill compared with no levy for 1960 — but several governmental subdivisions have made levy estimates.

The state is expected to set its levy later this week. It is expected to increase. Unofficial indications are for one-fourth to one-half mill more.

Maximum levies are expected to be set by the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District, .75 of a mill, and Lincoln Airport Authority, one mill.

The county has estimated a 4.54-mill levy, a slight increase, and a levy for state institutions of 2.79.

The city levy is not expected to increase, but budget sessions indicate it will remain near the current 17.8 mills.

The probable two-mill jump by the school district would mean a 48.14 total for schools, or more than 57% of the Lincoln tax dollar.

Here's the estimated 1961 tax bill per $1,000 assessed valuation compared with 1960:

	1961	1960	Change
State	8.93*	8.43	+.50*
Institutional	2.79*	2.77	+.02*
County	4.54*	4.50	+.04*
City	17.80*	17.80	None*
Sanitary District	.50	None	+.50
Salt-Wahoo Watershed	.75	.75	None
Airport Authority	1.00	1.00	None
School District	48.14*	46.14	+2.00*
Totals	84.45*	81.39	3.06*

* Estimated.

Veterans Plan Reunion Lunch

Four Lancaster County 4-H club members who spent 36 hours in a fall out shelter two years ago will have a reunion luncheon Thursday noon.

They are: Connie Ketelhut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ketelhut of Walton; Marleen Retzlaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Retzlaff of Walton and Carlene and Judy Kettlehut, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ketelhut of Bennet.

The reunion luncheon will take place at 12:30 p.m. Thursday in the basement of the Raymond Kettelhut home located 2¼ miles east of the paved road to Bennet and one mile north.

Guest speaker at the luncheon will be Austin Bacon, of Lincoln, deputy director of Civil Defense in Nebraska. He will discuss latest information on civil defense.

The noon Juncheon will be similar to the meals eaten by the girls while in the fall out shelter two years ago.

Wheat Harvest Nearing Finale

Harvesting of wheat in Nebraska is drawing rapidly to a close, the final wheat harvest bulletin of the State Department of Labor said.

Sixty per cent has been cut out in Kimball County, 35% in Banner County and 80% in the Alliance area.

Hemingford reports 45% cut out with some green wheat in the area. Ninety per cent is reported cut between Crawford and Gordon.

Trio Pleads Innocent To Robbing Clerk

Beatrice (UPI)—Three men who pleaded innocent to robbing a hotel clerk of $26 while he walked his dog in an alley were bound over to Gage County District Court and held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

The men, Angelo R. Martinez, 23, and Everett R. Vasques, 21, both of Waukegan, Ill., and Ronald H. Laraas, 23 Withee, Wis., entered the plea during a preliminary hearing Wednesday in Gage County Court.

They were charged with robbery.

The trio was accused of stopping William Pressnall, a hotel night clerk, while Pressnall was walking his dog in an alley and forcing him to hand over his billfold. Pressnal said they took $26 and threw the billfold back and sped off in a car.

Beatrice police spotted the car and, thinking the car suspicious, followed it to the edge of town. When they received a report of the robbery, they pursued the car and stopped it about 10½ miles south of here.

The money was found stuffed under the car dashboard.

Policies Endorsed

Washington (UPI) — The American Legion's Boys' Nation endorsed President Kennedy's Berlin policies.

NU's Barnard Named ASME Vice President

Niles H. Barnard, chairman of the University of Nebraska's department of mechanical engineering, has been named a vice president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

He will supervise all society activities within an 8-state region in the Great Plains including 2,100 members.

Barnard's term begins in June 1962. He was named at the group's annual summer meeting in Los Angeles.

Schlecht Enters Not Guilty Plea

Madison (UPI) — Former Norfolk, Neb., policeman Clarence Schlecht Jr., 32, was arraigned here before District Judge F. H. Pollock on 4 counts of second degree arson.

Schlecht pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of mental derangement. He had admitted setting 4 warehouse fires at Norfolk while serving as a night policeman there.

Bond was set at $7,500.

KEARNEY LIBRARY, CHADRON GYM BUILDINGS ARE PLANNED

The State Normal Board has not yet asked Governor Morrison for his approval of construction of two major buildings on state teachers college campuses in the next two years.

Normal Board Secretary Albin Larson said the request for Morrison's approval of a proposed $700,000 library at Kearney and a $600,000 gym at Chadron will be made shortly.

In selecting the buildings at Kearney and Chadron, the board rejected a proposal for at least two years to build a $650,000 fine arts-classroom building at Wayne.

Law requires the governor to approve all expenditures out of the state institutional building levy.

Meanwhile at Chadron, Dr. Eric De Flon has distributed a mimeographed flyer protesting construction of what he calls the "$600,000 sports palace" at Chadron.

De Flon called his protest "a challenge to the normal board and those in authority at Chadron State to justify their decision to build such a structure at this time, in view of the other desperate needs of the college."

The Chadron doctor said there have been no major improvements in the college's 50-year history in facilities for biology, botany, chemistry, physics, mathematics, foreign languages, history, philosophy or English.

De Flon said he fears that if the gym is constructed other departments will have a long wait before they can be improved.

Council To Sue Ex-Policeman

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha City Council has agreed to sue ex-patrolman Richard Dworak for $2,348 in wages paid him while he was on the disabled list 7 months in 1957.

City Solicitor Bernard Vinardi said the Nebraska Supreme Court decided the policeman was not injured on duty Feb. 4, 1957, as was claimed.

During the time he was on the disabled list, Vinardi said, Dworak was found to be operating a resort in Iowa.

Flames Destroy Barn Near Stella

Stella (UPI) — Spontaneous combustion in newly baled alfalfa hay has been blamed for loss of a large barn on the Alva Armstrong farm two miles north of here.

Several pigs were lost along with a hay wagon, corn wagon, some lumber and a fanning mill. Stella firemen saved nearby buildings but the barn fire was too far along to permit saving the structure.

Police Pupils Practice Pistol Potshots

By Woody West

"On the whistle, draw, fire 5 rounds, reload and fire 5 more rounds. You have 25 seconds to finish," said Asst. Police Chief O. L. Graves.

The 12 Nebraska law enforcement officers on the firing line stood poised for the draw and, at the whistle, the sharp crack of .38 caliber pistols echoed over the firing range.

As part of the Nebraska Law Enforcement Institute, they were firing the Lincoln police department's practical pistol course.

Assisting Graves were Lt. Dale Adams and Lancaster County Deputy Sheriff Del Zieman. For most of the men, this was their introduction to a practical pistol range.

This type range is rapidly replacing conventional police ranges. It stresses firing in situations officers may actually face.

"It's a tough course even for an experienced marksman," Graves told them.

The course is divided into two parts.

In the first, the men face a silhouette target from 7 yards away. Object is to draw quickly and fire without a time-consuming aim.

"The principle," said Graves, "is the same as pointing your finger at a man. Just bring the weapon up and fire."

Officers fired 50 rounds on command and found that 7 yards can be longer than it looks when you're in a hurry.

Graves told them this could be the situation a policeman might face. Too much time could mean his life.

The second part gave officers a variety of firing positions.

Again using silhouette targets, marked to indicate disabling and killing hits, they fired 5 rounds from the prone position at 60 yards, rolled over, reloaded their weapons and moved to the 50 yard line. There they fired 5 more rounds — in a sitting position.

At the 50 and 25 yard lines are thick posts.

Here it gets tougher. The officer must first fire 5 rounds left-handed, hiding behind the post, then reload and fire 5 rounds right-handed from behind the post.

Finishing, they moved up to the 25 yard line and again fired both right and left handed.

Back in the shed, the shooters totalled up their score.

There were moans about low scores, but all greed on the practical pistol course's value and the instruction they had received.

Officer Andy Davis And Leo

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Down, Boy! Down, Boy! Down, Boy!

Man's best friend can also be his worst enemy if he doesn't behave.

And a police dog-officer combination can be tough to beat.

Heinz Nawroth, a police dog trainer from Brighton, Mo., and the Omaha Police Dept. showed how dogs can be used in police work at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Institute Wednesday night.

"The psychological effect of a police dog on duty is 100 times better than a badge," Nawroth said.

The dogs are trained exactingly in disarming a man, search and manhunt, trailwork on all ground, manhunt and capture from a car and guarding prisoners.

One benefit gained by the use of the dog is that of the flashlight attached to the harness, said the expert.

"The light is put on the dog and not in the hands of the officer. This improves search results since a dog reacts quicker to movement or noise and turns the light on the source.

"It also decreases danger to the officer since the light is a perfect target for the criminal."

Lt. P. F. Elliott of Omaha gave an example of how the dogs had been used there recently:

"Officer Davis and his dog, Leo, encountered a boy with a broken bottle in his hand.

"Before the boy could strike, Leo nearly tore the hind end out of him," but Officer Davis kept him in check and the attacker ran off.

"Later, the boy came into headquarters and said a policeman's dog had bitten him. "A few minutes later he was in jail."

Nawroth explained that the dog in his harness is like the officer in uniform, alert and suspicious of every action. But the officers take their dogs home when off duty and, removing the harness, the dog is an affectionate house pet.

Reds Compare Fleeing Refugees To Old Nazis

By Loyal Gould

Berlin (AP) — The communists Wednesday compared refugees fleeing East Germany to Nazi criminals. The comparison was made by Gerhart Eisler, a leading East German propagandist who jumped bail in the United States and fled aboard the Polish ship Batory in 1949 to escape prison terms for contempt of Congress and passport fraud.

"Whoever today deserts the (East) German Democratic Republic for the camp of the West German militarists and capitalists," Eisler wrote in the newspaper Berliner Zeitung, "commits a crime of the same magnitude as those whose confusion led them to follow the enticements of the Nazi party."

A total of 973 refugees have registered at the Marienfelde reception center in the past 24 hours. Seven days ago, there were 1,095 arrivals. Officials attributed the larger number of arrivals a week ago to a Protestant rally that brought thousands of pilgrims here from East Germany and East Berlin. Many of them decided to stay in the West.

Told To Act

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht told party functionaries they must take steps to halt the exodus.

After berating them for not keeping their constituents informed about the regime's problems and plans, he suggested they do something to improve the citizen's lot.

"See to it that life in the DDR (East Germany) develops in such a way that everybody feels at home and understands that there are no reasons to leave Germany's first peasants' and workers' state for the enemy's camp."

Ulbricht's statements, made before a party congress near Leipzig, East Germany, last week, were published by the official party paper, Neues Deutschland.

Judge Refuses School Reopening

Richmond, Va. (AP)—A federal judge said Wednesday he was not going to enter an order requiring the reopening of Prince Edward County's public schools, closed two years ago in a racial dispute.

"That's going to be determined by the Supreme Court of Virginia, if it's going to be done at all," said Judge Oren R. Lewis of Richmond Federal District Court.

Judge Lewis also said he was "not going to determine if they (county and state) have a legal right to close the schools; that's going to be done by the Supreme Court of Virginia."

Cornfield's Huge Hole A Mystery

. . . On Archer Farm

Archer (AP) — A freak of nature has made the farm of Joe Stanislav a tourist attraction.

A sudden hole developed in the cornfield, 15 feet deep and 40 feet in diameter. Corn growing on the ground continued to grow, despite the 15 foot drop.

Stanislav told this story:

One the evening of July 16, he passed the field about 7:30 p.m. and everything was normal. An hour later, he got a call from a neighbor wondering what had happened in the field.

Investigation disclosed the hole.

Amateur geologists, in the absence of official word, figure there was an unknown underground stream which caused the farm land to drop.

Stanislav, who has owned the land since 1939, said a geologist had been asked to come from Lincoln and render an official version.

The land has been growing corn, wheat or milo since Stanislav purchased it.

9-Year Pen Term Given To Stroisch

North Platte (AP)— George Edward Stroisch, 24, 210-pound gunman from Whitefish, Mont., was sentenced to 9 years in the State Penitentiary Wednesday on charges of robbery and debauching a minor.

Stroisch, arrested Monday night a few hours after he had abducted a 17-year-old Sutherland girl at gunpoint, appeared before District Judge C. S. Beck handcuffed and wearing the same clothes as when he was arrested.

Stroisch, who said he wanted no attorney, pleaded guilty to both charges. Judge Beck gave him two years on the debauching a minor charge and 7 years for robbery. He specified the terms should run consecutively.

He was charged with abducting Jerilyn Leonhardt from a Sutherland Reservoir swimming spot at gunpoint, theft of the girl's car and some money, and for the alleged assault on the girl between Wellfleet and Maywood.

Peruvian Ambassador 'Pleased' With JFK Talk

By Karen Kenney

Whatever support President Kennedy might have lost after the Cuban invasion, he has more than made up in gains from Latin American approval, declared Peruvian Ambassador Fernando Berchemeyer.

The ambassador, who spoke at the University of Nebraska Wednesday, mirrored Latin American feelings concerning our country.

Berchemeyer emphasized that he and his people were greatly pleased with the President's speech Tuesday.

Further explaining our southern neighbors' favorable reaction to the President, he attributed growing close ties between both continents to the fact that the Kennedy administration has recognized the importance of economic and social aid to block communist intrusion into Latin America.

"And, as you help us improve our educational system, build homes and hospitals, and balance our foreign trade and internal commerce, we will eliminate all fear of communism."

Said Berchemeyer: "Our people resent the influx of Russian and satellite philosophy into our hemisphere, and respect your leader's emphasis of unity for your country and ours."

Key Is Communication

Convinced that communication between peoples is a cornerstone in the building of better international relations, the well-traveled diplomat praised the American people for their sincere interest in Latin America.

"American social groups' dedication in studying the conditions, problems and culture of our nations have fostered better relations between the countries.

"The more we know of each other, our problems and aspirations, the better we will find ourselves in cementing friendships which should be in this hemisphere forever."

Continuing his charge to the citizens of each country to work toward understanding, he said:

"If the people do not react to whatever is being done by officials in the Organization of American States, then our diplomatic work is to no avail."

The ambassador added assurance of Latin America's intentions concerning international relations by pledging his efforts, and the efforts of his people, toward the institution of a unified and free Western hemisphere.

Birchemeyer has been with Peru's diplomatic corps for 35 years and is a member of the Peruvian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

Commercial Sweet Corn Gets Airing

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Shelton — Prospects for adding sweet corn as a new crop for commercial production on Nebraska farms was discussed here Wednesday evening at the Roy Harris farm by brokers and buyers for food chains, business and industrial leaders and University of Nebraska representatives.

Co-sponsored by the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce, it was the first time buyers had collectively met with producers in centeral Nebraska to evaluate production and marketing of vegetable crops.

"We are convinced sweet corn and other vegetables can be grown in Nebraska as commercial crops," said Donald W. McDannel, chairman of the new crops committee of the Grand Island Chamber.

Food chain buyers viewing the 30 acres of sweet corn production on the Harris farm told Platte Valley residents:

"All of the potential is here. You have one of the greatest corn-producing areas. Get us the corn; we can sell it."

Marketing Woes

Marketing was termed the biggest problem to the eventual size of Nebraska's vegetable production.

They recommended that producers and shippers be encouraged to enter the area and prepare vegetable crops for marketing.

"We must have even procurement of vegetables, and buyers will want to be assured that the stores they deal with can furnish ample supply," said a chain store buyer.

Vegetable buyers, in voicing preference for a Nebraska product, described how much of the sweet corn now sold in the state is shipped from New York, Florida and Texas.

"It just doesn't make sense to ship corn from other states to a Corn Belt area when you can do the job better here," said a Midwest food broker.

Dr. George Young, head of the NU horticulture department, said:

"Research in vegetable production, started through community effort, has shown that something can be done with producing vegetable crops in Nebraska."

Dick Good, Grand Island Chamber manager, said that the meeting of industry leaders with producers can well be the beginning of a new agricultural industry for Nebraska.

Nigeria Wants Aid Only From Friends

Washington (AP)—Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, federal prime minister of Nigeria, said Wednesday his nation wants economic assistance only from its friends.

In an exchange of toasts with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson at a capitol luncheon, Balewa said:

"We in Nigeria look for assistance. But if we are to appeal for help we should appeal only to the friends. We look forward to closer association with you."

Hitler's Example Should Warn K, Says Stevenson

Rome (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations, said Wednesday that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev does not understand America's concern over Berlin then "language has no meaning for him or he is as great a gambler as Hitler himself."

"I do not believe that he is," Stevenson said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Italian Society for International Organization. "And the fall of that earlier gambler should surely deter him, if he is suffering at this time from that Soviet disease Stalin once defined as "dizziness through success."

Stevenson said the West has the reserves and the resolution to face the challenge of Berlin.

Drunks Go To Jail, Court Daily; They Can Be Helped

By Woody West

Dirty and unshaven, with bloodshot eyes, they shuffle into Muncipal Court every morning —the day's collection of drunks.

The jailer leads them into the first two rows of benches where they sit, nursing hangovers, waiting for their cases to be tried.

Most are older men, poorly dressed and dejected looking. Even the younger men appear far older and beaten down .

Hopelessness hangs over these men.

The courtroom scene is a familiar one to them. They've sat like this before —if not in Lincoln, then in other cities.

Drift And Drink

Many are drifters, drinking their way from city to city.

They come in on freights or hitchhike, staying long enough to get money for a 5th of cheap wine and a couple cans of beans.

Wine money comes from shoplifting, panhandling, or infrequent day labor.

Courtroom routine varies little.

The city prosecutor calls a name, and the man rises and faces the court.

". . ., you are charged with being drunk on July 26. How do you plead?"

Usually Guilty

The plea is usually "guilty."

The judge pauses to make a notation on the charge sheet.

"The sentence is $10 and costs"—the usual sentence.

And so it goes down the list.

Occasionally a not guilty plea is heard.

Then, a trial date is set and the defendant may be released on bond. Often, after thinking it over at night, the man will rise in court the next morning and change his plea to guilty.

Perhaps the not guilty plea was a gesture, or perhaps the man hoped to gain enough time to scrape up fine money. Few drifters will try to convince a court of their innocence.

For most of these men there is no future. Alcohol and its environment has become a way of life.

Chronic Cases

But there are others who sit in those first two rows.

Police come to know many by name as they pass in and out of jail.

Some are skilled workmen, family men, and responsible citizens, except for periodic marathons with the bottle.

These men are not incurable alcoholics. They can be helped if they have the first requirement — wanting to be helped.

Most cities have agencies whose objective is rehabilitation of these men.

Half May Sober Up

Alcoholics Anonymous, one of the best known groups, estimates 50% can attain a "stable sobriety" in a relatively short time, 25% later, and 25% can't be helped.

No formal Lincoln organization exists to refer these men to appropriate agencies and help them lick their problems.

But the Lincoln Community Council has ended the first part of a study on local alcoholism and is trying to organize machinery to offer help.

Eventually, they hope to have a "jail screening committee" to interview a man booked on a drunk charge, find out if he wants help, and is capable of responding to treatment.

In the meantime, alternatives are either pay the fine or go downstairs to jail.

Five days in the jug equals a $10 fine.

Black Rejects Rider's Plea For Release

Washington (AP) — Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme Court Tuesday turned down a bid to win release of a "freedom rider" from a Mississippi prison. The habeas corpus action was brought on behalf of Elizabeth Porter Wyckoff, 45, of New York City, who contended her conviction was unconstitutional and invalid.

In a brief opinion, Black said there was not enough evidence to show that all state legal processes had been exhausted.

Justice Tom C. Clark, only other member of the Supreme Court available at this time, concurred in Black's action. The court is in summer recess.

Miss Wyckoff, now confined in the iMssissippi State Penitentiary at Parchman, was arrested last month in Jackson, Miss., when she joined a group of other freedom riders in an attempt to enter areas of a bus terminal designated for white persons.

Convicted of a breach of the peace, she was sentenced to two months in jail or a fine of $200. She is scheduled for release Aug. 11.

Dobson Submits Low Paving Bid

An apparent low bid of $73,588.20 for Paving District 1741 by the Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was opened Wednesday at City Hall.

The district covers Prescott from Fiene Terrace subdivision to 40th; Berlene from 37th to 39th; 37th from Pioneers Blvd. to Prescott; 38th from Pioneers to 39th, and 39th from Pioneers to Prescott.

Only other bidder was Pioneer Paving Co. at $74,965.50.

Dobson Bros. was also low bidder on Water District 544 for R from 54th to 56th and Orcutt Avenues East, West and South at $10,792. Chambers Construction Co. bid $10,998.

Recommendations on the bids go Monday to City Council.

McNamara Explains Pentagon's Spending Proposals

By Fred S. Hoffman

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon Wednesday made a fast start on President Kennedy's new military buildup. It ordered a sharp increase in the August draft call and asked Congress for billions of dollars to muster another quarter of a million men.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara went before a Senate appropriations subcommittee with plans to "achieve quickly . . . a peak readiness" to respond to any kind of armed communist aggression anywhere in the world.

McNamara specified how oqe Defense Department would spend an additional $3,454,000,000 to increase the armed forces to a total of 2,743,000 men, arm them with more missiles and other modern weapons, and prepare to send more fighting men overseas swiftly if the need arose in Berlin or elsewhere.

Draft Up

While the Pentagon chief was before the Senate group, the Defense Department nounced it was increasing the August draft call from 8,000 to 13,000. All the draftees will serve in the Army.

McNamara told the Senate subcommittee the September draft call would come to at least 20,000 to bring the Army closer to the new goal of one million men — an increase of about 133,000.

While indicating no immediate callup of National Guard or reserve units, McNamara asked for legislation that would authorize the President to order to active duty up to 250,000 members of the ready reserve.

The resolution, introduced by key Republican and Democratic Congress members, would permit such reservists to be kept on duty for up to a year and would allow the President to extend service tours by as much as 12 months.

Extend Time

Further, the President would be empowered to extend the training periods of selective reservists and units not on full-time active duty by two to 4 weeks.

The nearly $3.5 billion in new defense funds requested for this bookkeeping year would be broken down this way:

Army $1.44 billion, Navy 985 million, Air Force $754 million and Marines $67 million.

McNamara said that in order to meet Soviet threats "with firmness and confidence and to provide us with a greater range of military alternatives, we will need more non-nuclear strength than we have today."

He aaid, too, that "we expect that our European allies will wish to make corresponding increases in their own strength."

Increase Divisions

One of the primary objectives is to bring to full combat strength 3 Army divisions now detailed to training recruits and draftees.

The 3 divisions, now at about one-third strength, are the 1st Infantry — the "Big Red One" — at Ft. Riley, Kan., the 2nd Infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Army officials declined to go into details but it appeared likely that perhaps 36,000 men would be needed to fill out these 3 divisions. McNamara said it would cost $226 million.

"By the end of the current calendar year, we hope to have in the continental United States 8 combat ready divisions — 6 army and two Marine Corps," the defense secretary said.

Also, McNamara said "We . . . believe it advisable at this time to provide for rounding out the manning and support of Army forces in Europe."

He said this could involve "another substantial increment of men and a budget increase of approximately $150 million."

Lincoln Marine Off Serious List

Alameda, Calif. (UPI) — Marine Cpl. Daryl Lee Harig, 20, of Lincoln, was taken off the serious list Wednesday at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital here after suffering an accidental gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Lance Cpl. J. L. Johnson was checking the 45-caliber automatic pistol when it discharged, the Navy said. The accident occurred aboard the carrier U.S.S. Ranger off Alameda.

Capt. W. N. Leonard, commander of the Ranger, ordered an investigation.

The Ranger put out to sea until Saturday and the report is not expected to be available until then, officials said.

Plan Power Plants

Srinagar, Kashmir (AP) — The Indian government plans to build several small hydroelectric power plants in the Himalayan area of Ladakh, just west of Tibet. Some remote communities in Ladakh that are 11,000 feet above sea level now obtain electric power from diesel engines.

ALLIES' RESPONSE FAVORABLE

By John M. Hightower

Washington (AP) — U.S. Allies in NATO have responded favorably to President Kennedy's call for a boost in armed forces to stand off Soviet threats against West Berlin, U.S. officials reported Wednesday.

Whether allied governments in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will now follow through with new commitments of money and manpower to pick up their share of the burden which Kennedy prescribed for all is still uncertain. Some Western European leaders are beginning to talk about increasing military spending and stepping up draft calls, it was said.

But it is by no means clear that Kennedy will suceed in achieving his announced allied objective of urgently building up NATO's conventional military forces to the basic, ground army goal of 30 divisions set several years ago.

Kennedy put his leadership of the Western powers to its first major test when he proclaimed Tuesday night that "a first need" of the preparations to deal with communist power is to speed progress toward the NATO military goals.

The danger is that Kennedy will get mainly lip service from allied governments. Such a reaction would be interpreted by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to mean that other countries of the alliance were indifferent and apathetic to the U.S. call for firmness in West Berlin. That would mean Khrushchev considered the alliance split in fact, regardless of what its leaders were saying in public statements.

The favorable reaction so far reported from allied governments is indecisive. But consultation started only last Friday and the lack of a definitive response therefore is not considered surprising.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk last Friday outlined to representatives of Britain, France and West Germany the program which the President presented to the world Tuesday night.

Three countries hold the key to the proposed build-up. They are Britain, France and West Germany.

Kennedy's goal would be achieved if West Germany added 4 divisions, France added two or 3 more, the United States sent an additional division and Britain and the rest of the NATO members produced the equivalent of an additional division.

Adventists Step Up Requirements In Area Schools

By Karen Kenney

Seventh-day Adventist schools in the Midwest will have to comply this fall with stepped-up educational requirements outlined at the annual Central Adventist Conference board of education meeting held Wednesday.

Included in the new program drawn up by the board for all conference schools is adoption of a new progress report card for the elementary level.

In addition to a regular grade given for each subject, the student will also receive a grade showing his education growth in relation to his ability.

Another adoption relating directly to the elementary level is the new requirement that, after 1963, no teacher will be hired in grade schools with less than a BA degree, and, within 5 years, all elementary teachers will be expected to hold an MA degree or equivalent.

On the secondary level, the board passed a resolution that, by 1964, newly-hired teachers must hold an MA (or equivalent) in their field of teaching.

Action on the secondary level also affected students as the board altered requirements for graduation:

—1962 graduates must complete 18 units of educational equirements, plus 4 years of attendance.

—1963 graduates are required to have 19 units plus 4 years attendance.

—1964 graduates will finish 20 units of educational requirements in addition to 4 years attendance.

The board also eliminated the posts of valedictorian and salutatorian from graduation honors and substituted a 3-level honor system which will graduate a percentage of the students with either high distinction, distinction or honor.

Other action taken by the board included:

—Adoption of the National Study of Secondary School Evaluation Criteria with a supplement written for Seventh-day Adventist schools.

—Recommendation of the assignment of administrative assistants for conference principals.

—Institution of a committee organized to plan a 5-year restudy of the conference's approach to the teaching of Bible in secondary schools.

New Plan By Belt Workers Set Thursday

Wednesday, management offered and labor rejected additional proposals in the two-week-old strike dispute at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. belt plant in Lincoln.

Negotiations adjourned until Thursday morning with an announcement by union officials that they would make a new proposal.

Ernest Payne, United Rubber Workers international representative, said negotiators met Wednesday in "little better atmosphere." He said company proposals indicate a "give and take idea."

Goodyear personnel manager David E. Murray said there was "no evident progress" in the Wednesday meeting, but the fact they were meeting is itself evidence of something.

"But I'm not sure what," he concluded.

Birth Control Urged

Seoul (AP) — The new military government is encouraging birth control for the first time in South Korean history, arguing that large families mean added burdens for the country's hard-pressed economy. South Korea's population is growing at an annual rate of 500,000.

Housekeeper Is Accused Of Giving Employer Poison

Kirksville, Mo. (UPI) —A first-degree murder charge was lodged against a dowdy housekeeper who admittedly killed her elderly employer by feeding him a poison-laced ham sandwich. She told officers she killed the man because he forced his attention upon her.

The accused woman, Mrs. Dorothy Ava Ryan Brookshire, 45, told prsecutors her victim, J. Wesley Rush, 76, had used "dope and a shotgun" to force a relationship which resulted in her pregnancy.

Rush's body was found on the bank of the Chariton River near this northeast Missouri community.

Mrs. Brookshire had been Rush's housekeeper since last March—a job for which she has been paid about $1,800. She said Rush had been intimate with her "about 6 times," some after he had doped her. On other occasions, she said, Rush threatened her with a shotgun.

Mrs. Brookshire said she has a son who is a ward of a Missouri court, adding that Rush told her he would prevent her from "ever getting the child again" if she did not submit to him.

Laboratory tests confirmed that Rush had been poisoned and Mrs. Brookshire called police to confess.

The Rush home was described as "a ramshackle, ill-kept place" by Adair County Prosecutor Vance R. Frick.

NPPS Sues To Recover Unpaid Bills

RURALS, CPPD DEFENDANTS

Columbus (AP)—The Nebraska Public Power System is suing 27 Nebraska rural power agencies and Consumers Public Power District to recover $940,000 the system says is due in unpaid portions of power bills.

All the defendants are powpurchase customers of NPPS in the eastern 2-3 of the state.

The Loup River Public Power District and the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, joint owners of NPPS, jointly filed the actions in what was termed "an extension of the so-called Burt County Case brought by 25 rural agency customers against NPPS last year."

Rural agencies in that action had charged NPPS with discrimination in a Consumers-NPPS power purchase contract.

NPPS attorneys said the rate disputes originally were part of the Burt County case, but that rural districts did not agree to consider money matters along with the discrimination charge. Thus, the attorneys said, NPPS had to file separate actions.

These are the first interagency actions to be instituted by NPPS.

The money in question is that withheld from power bill payments to NPPS from Sept. 1, 1959, through May 31, 1961. The NPPS seeks recovery of the funds, plus interest charges.

The defendant rurals have been paying NPPS $1.85 per kilowatt hour in demand charges instead of the $1.96 billed by NPPS. Consumers also cut its payments following the withholding action of the rurals.

Iowa Bankruptcy Referee Orders Fields To Appear

Council Bluffs (AP) — The Fields Iowa Corp., operators of a chain of hotels, has been ordered to appear Aug. 4 before Federal Bankruptcy Referee Gibson Holliday in Des Moines.

The corporation must show cause why its plan to meet its debts should be dismissed or adjudged bankrupt.

Gibson's order, on file in U.S. District Court here Wednesday, said that certain conditions imposed upon the corporation have not been complied with.

"Because of circumstances of this proceedings and the present financial condition of the debtor and blanket real estate mortgages involved, the plan by the debtor is not feasible," the order said.

Portrait— Of A Traveler

Back in Nebraska for a brief visit with friends and family is Mrs. Hazel Dyer who has spent the last two years in the Tokyo area of Japan as an elementary school teacher for the children of American military personnel.

Before Japan, it was Manila, and preceding her two years in the Philippines, Mrs. Dyer was sent to Okinawa where she began her career of "overseas" teaching in 1955.

Completely convinced that her system of seeing the world and becoming acquainted on a people-to-people basis is the best, Mrs. Dyer is enthusiastically making plans for her new teaching position in Ankara, Turkey. Although Ankara was not her first choice (Mrs. Dyer still has hopes of getting to Spain), as with all military operations, you go where you are sent, and it is characteristic of the petite lady that she is eagerly looking forward to the new sights, customs and friends of the Turkish capital.

Although she has brought home from the Far East many exquisite articles—china, silks and silver—Mrs. Dyer confesses that its more fun to collect people and to study the history of her temporary homes. Historically speaking, Okinawa, a small island of the Ryukyus, was thoroughly studied by Mrs. Dyer; Manila and the Philippines took longer; and Japan, well, she had just made a good start in two years.

With enough energy for three much larger adults, Mrs. Dyer didn't spend school holidays and vacations resting. She hopped onto whatever transportation was available (once it was a very small Japanese island boat) and managed to satisfy her curiosity about Thailand, Hong Kong, Singapore, Saigon, Formosa, Macao, Ceylon, Cambodia, Burma and even tiny Jolo, the southernmost island and city of the Philippines.

Even the petty discomforts of living conditions are a challenge to Mrs. Dyer's sense of humor and adaptability. The most barracks-like apartment quickly becomes home for Mrs. Dyer, who has learned that you can make drapes out of lengths of native cloth and hide lumps in dubious furniture with bright scarves. But as nothing can take the place of portable American appliances, they have first priority in her luggage.

Filling an entire chapter in Mrs. Dyer's travel "log" would be the variety of bathing facilities she met and conquered. She encountered everything from an open-air steam tub in Japan screened by shrubs but wide open to the skies, to an interesting arrangement in a former military barracks (now with coed residents) in the Philippines where a bath meant dressing completely for the outdoors for the long trip up and down corridors and flights of stairs to find an unoccupied bath.

Another interesting housing arrangement involved four teachers, four bedrooms, and at the rear, a small sitting room with access only through the bedrooms which entailed a great deal of community living especially when there were visitors.

Two months with her family is all the respite Mrs. Dyer needs, however, and late August, well-armed with her housekeeping items, her unfailing enthusiasm to learn and to collect people, she will fly to Frankfurt, Germany, then on to a new "home" in Ankara.

(Note to Mrs. Dyer: Until a few years ago, the Turks did not have bathtubs. They stood in tiled rooms and poured steaming water over each other.)

Entertains

The members of Beta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained guests on Tuesday evening at a party which began with miniature golf and concluded with a watermelon feed at Roberts Park.

In charge of arrangements were Miss Norma Boldebuck and Miss Merna Furrer.

Activity Is Not On The Wane

—Was it just yesterday we said that activity in Lincoln was on the wane—temporarily? It is a statement to be completely disregarded in the light of Thursday's dawn.

We have taken a new lease on life, socially speaking, and we're delighted to tell you that more guests are arriving—that there are parties in the offing—that there are travelers, and also that there is a new member of the nursery crowd to mention.

* * *

—Among the potential guests are Mrs. Thomas Bowman and her two children, Beverly and David, who arrive on Sunday from Denver to spend several days in Lincoln as the guests of Mrs. Bowman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sidles.

Early in August Mr. and Mrs. Sidles and their daughter and grandchildren will go to Alexandria, Minn., for a holiday at the Sidles summer home.

* * *

—But during Mrs. Bowman's stay in town she will be honored at informal courtesies, and among them is the coffee for which Mrs. Sidles will be hostess at her home next Thursday morning when she entertains a small group of guests.

* * *

—Since we are on the subject of coffees, let's mention the one for which Mrs. Fred Colby was hostess on Wednesday morning at her home. The party was in farewell courtesy to Mrs. Virgil Stewart who, with Mr. Stewart and their sons, Milton and Virgil, are leaving soon to reside in LaFayette, Ind. The guest list included a group of neighbors.

And neighbors also were guests last Friday when Mrs. Richard Gray was a luncheon hostess at her home in Mrs. Stewart's honor.

* * *

—And we might just as well go as far back as Tuesday evening when it was party time for Miss Brenda Berg, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Darrell E. Berg, whose marriage to Lee G. Nelson will take place on Aug. 5, at Trinity Methodist Church.

The Tuesday evening hostesses were Mrs. Robert Askey, Mrs. Roy Martin, Mrs. Jack Snider and Mrs. Warren Urbom, who entertained at the home of Mrs. Askey. Twenty-eight guests, all members of Trinity Methodist Church, were invited.

* * *

—Somehow we seem to have wandered away from our original topic—guests.

So, now we'll tell you that Barbara and John Rezner of Western Springs, Ill., arrived on July 24, for a 10 days stay as the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Harris.

* * *

—And we also want you to know that Mrs. S. George Sanregret (Maryann Day) and her two small sons, Sammy and Bill will be arriving tomorrow from Mountain View, Calif., to spend three weeks as the guests of Mrs. Sanregret's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seward Day. Mr. Sanregret will join his family here on Aug. 21, and will linger for a day or two before he, Mrs. Sanregret and their sons leave for Michigan and a 10 days holiday.

A guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Day last week was their son, Lt. Thomas Day, who stopped off for a brief visit en route to home and family in Arlington, Va. Lt. Thomas Day has just returned from a 13 months tour of duty in Korea. Lt. Day's next assignment will be with the Military Police Force at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

* * *

—We won't feel as though we had completed the day's work unless we tell you that Mrs. J. P. Colbert is back in town after three weeks stay in Eugene, Ore.

Mrs. Colbert was in Eugene to extend greetings in person to her new granddaughter, Jacqueline Ann Halter, who arrived on July 3. The baby's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halter, and her mother is the former Beverly Colbert, Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska.

Fun News In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

Guests arriving in Lincoln yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. George Hilton, who came from their home in Berkeley, Calif., to spend a week. The houseguests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hilton, the California residents will be the incentive for a family reunion Sunday.

From Lincoln, the Hiltons will be going to New York City to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lane.

Looking at the social calendar for the week end we found that Mrs. David Raulston did some entertaining. Mrs. Raulston invited a group of suburbia neighbors in for coffee Friday evening.

On Saturday evening, the Eastborough Swimming Pool Association held an annual swimming and dancing party for the members of the association. Incidentally, the party initiated the new patio which was added to the pool area recently.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Mellecker and their four youngsters, Scott, Brooks, Steve, and Melinda, returned to their home in suburbia following a week's holiday in Illinois. The suburbia family were the houseguests of Mrs. Mellecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, at their home in Homewood.

Off for a week end at the cabin of Park Manor residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Melville, at Lake Erickson near Broken Bow are Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lilley. Completing the guest list will be another Lincoln couple, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beck, and the host couple.

Now for the address book—we find that the Stanley O. Sears family has moved from 7039 Eldora Lane and Lincoln. Their mail is being forwarded to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Grand Island.

Lulatven Resort at Cold Springs, Minn., is the new address for the Orwood H. Waldrup family. Their suburbia address was 611 E. Eldora Lane.

BETHANY PARK HEIGHTS

There are two new young ladies in the 6900 block on Y Street.

The first newcomer to the talcum powder set is Debra Ann Eovaldi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eovaldi, Jr., who was born on Saturday, July 22, at Lincoln General Hospital. Mrs. Eovaldi is the former Carol Monteggia.

Among the young lady's most ardent admirers are her three year-old brother, Stephen; her sister, Linda, who is two years old; and her grandfathers, George Eovaldi of Buckner, Ill., and Joe Monteggia of Coello, Ill.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon. My parents were divorced last year, but my father is paying for my wedding. I have planned it right down to the last detail, and I want it to be perfect. My problem is my mother. She is 38 and very beautiful. She bought herself a white organza dress that looks almost like my wedding gown. I showed her in the etiquette book where the bride's mother is not supposed to wear black or white, but she says the book was written 100 years ago, and she'll wear what she likes. Also, she wants to have as her "date" for the evening a man who is much too young for her. How can you tell your own mother what to do? I am terribly upset over this. Can you advise me? UPSET BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: YOU can't tell your mother what to do—but your clergyman can make some appropriate suggestions. Tell him your problem and enlist his help. Good luck.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My little brother takes violin lessons. He is supposed to practice an hour a day, but he practices TWO hours a day and sometimes more. Abby, he is driving me crazy.

I am 15 and have homework to do. When he plays those exercises, I can't think. When he stops, I can still hear him for hours afterwards. My parents won't listen to me because they think he's great. He is really awful. Please tell me how to get a little peace around here so I can study.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♦	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

Opening lead—five of diamonds.

The declarer can frequently locate some of the missing high cards by making use of information he obtains from the bidding by the opponents. Here is a case where East's opening bid enabled South to find the right line of play to make four spades.

West led a diamond after East had bid the suit. East won with the ace and returned the jack, taken by the king.

Declarer's possible losers, in addition to the diamond, were a heart and three clubs. It seemed certain that East had the ace of clubs as part of his opening bid, and that he probably had the king of hearts as well.

Therefore, to make the contract, South had to win not only the heart finesse when he attempted it, but also had to find a way of avoiding three club losers after the finesse was successful.

Declarer succeeded in accomplishing this by timing his plays correctly and taking advantage of the knowledge he had obtained from East's opening bid.

After cashing the A-K of spades, he led the queen of hearts and finessed. He then played the ten to the ace and ruffed a diamond in dummy. Next came the jack of hearts, East covering with the king. Instead of ruffing the heart, South discarded a club.

The club that declarer discarded was a trick South would have had to lose in any case. By giving it up at this point, he placed East in a position where any return he made was bound to give South the contract.

A club lead by East would establish dummy's king as a trick and thus bring home the contract, while the return of a heart or a diamond by East would permit South to discard another club as dummy ruffed, and thus lose only one club trick.

Of course, plays like this require some planning if they are to be brought to a successful conclusion, which is one reason we have said so often that it pays to plan the play.

Elmira, N.Y. (AP) — A class at Elmira Free Academy was asked to prepare a report in newspaper style of the fatal stabbing of Julius Caesar. Sixteen-year-old David Josephson headlined it:

"JC GETS THE POINT."

Wrong Enemy

Honolulu (AP)—Leonard Wibberly, Irish author of the political satire "The Mouse That Roared," says the book resulted from the signing of the Japanese-U.S. peace treaty. "The more I read the treaty the more I believed the Japanese never did anything so smart as to go to war against the United States, lose and then be rehabilitated," he says. "Look at the Irish. We Irish have been fighting the wrong people for 800 years."

Western Powers And Neutrals Approve Kennedy's Stand

Berlin (AP) —President Kennedy's speech on Berlin won support of the other Western powers Wednesday and—perhaps of equal significance—some approving words from neutrals.

West Germans were jubilant at the strong affirmation of basic principles in the long dispute with the Soviet Union about the divided city and the prospects for a stronger Western military posture.

Big Three unity was re-emphasized in Paris and London.

Official French government sources said Kennedy's speech was greeted with great satisfaction and that his firmness "coincides entirely with the French position."

The British Foreign Office welcomed and fully endorsed the President's remarks. Though Britain is going through an economic crisis, the Foreign Office said in a statement, it must and will keep up its military strength "to face the critical situation which may arise."

The initial Russian reaction, as expected, was bitter.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in an article by commentator Igor Orlove, declared "The world heard nothing but saber-rattling."

"Although the campaign for fanning a war psychosis has been conducted in the United States for some time with the use of all forms of propaganda," it said, "the rank-and-file Americans learned with astonishment from the President that they will have to shoulder a much heavier burden of military outlays than they could have expected."

A Tass dispatch from Washington said Kennedy seized on "the so-called threat to West Berlin, allegedly coming from the Soviet Union," as an excuse to justify the arms race.

Other communist organs shared this line.

Sideline comment ranged from applause to mild criticism.

The liberal Stockholm Expressen in neutral Sweden remarked: "The speech will cause embitterment in some quarters and disappointment in others. But in the free world it must be greeted above all with relief and satisfaction."

Kennedy's bid for increased defense spending was termed very unfortunate by a senior Foreign Ministry official of India. But he approved the idea of holding the door open for a peaceful settlement and said: "Let us pray statesmanship will prevail."

An African view of the speech was expressed by Nigeria's federal Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, a visitor in Washington: "It was simple but firm. I think it is a speech which should be seriously considered by all nations. It is good the door is left open for discussions."

Favorable reaction to the U.S. position from Asian and African neutrals, if widespread could strengthen America's diplomatic hand. The United States is hoping that the new nations, which won their independence through self-determination, will remind the Russians at the U.N. General Assembly this fall that this principle also might well be applied to Berlin and the German people so they can work out their own future.

BLANCHARD BELTS 2—4 IN ROW

—PGA TEST OPENS AT CHICAGO—

Arnie Goes After Grand Slam Today

Chicago (AP) — Arnold Palmer is a 5-1 favorite to win the 43rd PGA championship, starting today and become the 3rd player of all time to complete professional golfers "Grand Slam."

"Winner of the Masters and U.S. Open in 1960, the muscular young pro from Latrobe, Pa., added the British Open crown recently at Birkdale. Now he needs only the PGA to complete the magic cycle achieved only by Ben Hogan and Gene Sarazen.

Bob Jones, the great amateur of sport's golden era, won the U.S. Open and Amateur and the British Open and Amateur in a single year—1930 — but he was ineligible for the PGA.

Wants Big 4

"My ambition always has been to win the Big 4 championships (British and U.S. Opens, Masters and PGA) in a single year," Palmer said, "but, failing this, I'll settle for doing it in two years."

Palmer tees off at 9:54 a.m. over the famed Olympia Fields North Course with his chief rival for the year's golf honors, Gary Player of South Africa, and Don January of Dallas, Tex.

Player, winner of the 1961 Masters in which he beat out Palmer by a single stroke, is second favorite at 8-1 and others fall back at even greater odds, including the defending champion, Jay Hebert, at 10-1 and Gene Littler, the U.S. Open champion, at 12-1.

Littler Forgotten

Littler is a forlorn, forgotten figure in this 72-hole event, which has drawn a field of 168 ranking professionals. He has been practicing in semi-privacy. The experts have given him hardly a tumble.

"I'm not worried about it," said the taciturn stylist from Singing Hills, Calif. "I'm playing all right."

The star-spangled field of tournament tourists and stay-at-home instructors includes 14 past winners of the championship, plus a heavy flavoring of former Open and Masters winners. Sam Snead is seeking his 4th PGA and Denny Shute his 3rd.

Hagen Won 5

None is yet in a position of challenging the 5 PGA victories of the great Walter Hagen, who captured the 3rd of his titles over this same course in 1925. It was here also that Johnny Farrell beat Bob Jones in a playoff for the Open championship in 1928.

Olympia Fields' North Course is a rolling layout of 6,722 yards, toughened by new and heavier rough and 13 additional fairway traps.

The long-driving, clutch-playing Palmer has attracted the bulk of the preliminary galleries who have seen him wrestle with his shots off the tee.

"I'm not driving as well as I did in Britain," he said, "but I've built up the grips of my driver some more. My hands sometimes change and I find that's the trouble."

GOVERNOR BUYS SHRINE TICKET

Governor Frank Morrison Wednesday bought his ticket for the 1961 Shrine Bowl Football game, which will be held August 19 at Lincoln's Memorial Stadium. Shown with Gov. Morrison are Shriner's Dick Spangler Jr. (left) and Bob Russell. Russell is President of the Shrine Bowl of Nebraska. The 3rd Annual Shrine Bowl game pits the state's top high school graduates in a regulation football game between players from the North and South parts of Nebraska. Proceeds go to the Twin-Cities Shrine Hospital in Minneapolis. (Star Photo).

Yanks Shellack Chisox By 5-2

. . . MANTLE WHACKS NO. 39

New York (AP)—Four home runs, two of them in successive turns at bat by John Blanchard, gave the Yankees a 5-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox and preserved New York's thin grasp on first place in the torrid American League race Wednesday.

Blanchard had homered as a 9th-inning pinch hitter in both the Friday and Saturday games at Boston and thus became the 7th major leaguer to hit home runs in 4 consecutive appearances at the plate. Ralph Kiner, one-time Pittsburgh great, did it twice.

Mickey Mantle, who preceded Blanchard in the batting order, got his 39th of the year in the first inning and drew even with Johnny Mize, hitting star of a decade ago, in the all-time homer derby with 359.

The Yankees got 8 homers in the twin bill with the White Sox Tuesday night and now have smashed 31 since the All-Star Game on July 11. They now have collected 155 for the season.

The major league mark is 221 by the New York Giants of 1947 and equalled by Cincinnati in 1956. The Yanks of 1956 top the American League with 190.

All the Yankee runs were counted on homers. Bobby Richardson opened the first inning by drawing a walk from Ray Herbert and scored ahead of Mantle. Then came Blanchard's first poke.

In the 4th Blanchard's record-equalling smash was followed by Clete Boyer's 7th of the year. It was his 3rd in two games.

Roger Maris, who got 4 homers Tuesday night to boost his major league lead to 40, went hitless. Blanchard now has 13 for the year.

Rollie Sheldon, rookie righthander, went all the way for the Yankees and registered his 7th victory.

Lary Wins As Rocky, Al Homer

Los Angeles (AP) — Righthander Frank Lary got home run support from Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline Wednesday night and picked up his 14th victory as Detroit defeated the Los Angeles Angels 5-4.

The victory kept the second place Tigers a half game behind the New York Yankees, who defeated Chicago earlier Wednesday.

Lary, (14-5) who shut out the Angels on 3 hits the last time he faced them, went the distance again. He was touched for 8 hits.

Lefthander Ron Moeller gave up 4 runs in 4 innings and took the loss, his 6th in 10 decisions.

Colavito hit his 29th homer with a man on and Kaline got his 13th for the deciding run with the bases empty. Joe Koppe homered for the Angels.

Collegians Tie Chicago Bears

. . . WARMUP FOR ALL-STAR

Rensselaer, Ind. (AP) — The College All-Stars Wednesday displayed a blistering air attack mainly behind the passing of Bill Kilmer of UCLA, to tie the Chicago Bears 14-14 in a full game football scrimmage.

It was the collegians climactic tuneup before they take on the National Football League champion Philadelphia Eagles in the annual All-Star Game in Soldier Field Aug. 4 in Chicago.

The All-Stars spotted the Bears a 14-0 lead before quarterback Kilmer got them rolling in the second quarter. He completed 8 of 11 passes, including 6 in a row, as the collegians went 80 yards in 11 plays.

Kilmer's main targets in the surge were Aaron Thomas of Oregon State, Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State and Glynn Gregory of Southern Methodist.

Atkins scored the touchdown on a 22 yard pass from Kilmer.

Atkins also scored the second touchdown early in the 4th period on a 4 yard run. It capped a 75 yard drive in 12 plays during which Tom Matte of Ohio State and Kilmer did the passing. Navy's Joe Bellino caught 3 of the tosses for a total of 35 yards.

George Fleming of Washington booted both extra points and also was just wide of making a 62 yard field goal.

Kilmer completed 10 of 14 passes for 103 yards, while the squad's 3rd quarterback, Norman Snead of Wake Forest, hit on 5 of 12 attempts for 45 yards.

The only running threat that the collegians showed was Matte on the option play and his longest dash was for 11 yards.

Chiefs Halt Losses On Gem By Locker

. . . BEAT BEES 4-1; MEET WIVES TONIGHT

By Larry Novicki

Bob Locker turned in a steady, 7-hit pitching performance Wednesday night as the Lincoln Chiefs broke a 4-game losing streak with a 4-1 win over Burlington.

Locker walked just two and struck out 6 in evening his record at 9-9.

He missed a shutout when Burlington scored in the second on a pair of fly balls that went for a triple and a single after Chief outfielders misjudged them in the hazy twilight.

Lincoln broke into the scoring column in the 4th without the services of their manager, George Noga.

Noga Ousted

Gentle George was ousted in the 4th when he protested a call made by plate umpire Jack Collins. George and most of the 623 Ladies Night fans thought that Chief batter Paul Higgs was hit on the forearm by a Jim Dickson pitch.

Collins looked down at Higgs, lying in pain on the ground, and called the pitch a foul ball, ruling that it had hit Higgs' bat.

Higgs proceeded to line a single to left field. Locker sacrificed him to second.

Then Don Gordon pulled a sizzling shot down the right-field line for a triple to score Higgs.

In the 5th Gary Johnson singled and Dayton Orsburn walked, both moving up on Bll DiCrosta's grounder to second.

Oscar Flores was walked intentionally to load the sacks, but the Bees' strategy backfired when Higgs drove in a run on a fielders choice, which left runners on first and 3rd.

Al Schrader then drilled a shot into the left-field corner for a ground-rule double that scored Orsburn.

Dickson left the game in favor of Fred Newman, who retired the side on two pitches.

Bonus Run

The Chiefs scored again in the 8th when Gordon walked with the sacks loaded via singles by DiCrosta and Flores and an intentional pass to Schrader.

Locker was in trouble only twice after the second, but alert defensive play and control pitching brought him out of it.

Flores had 7 assists and two putouts at shortstop and Orsburn handled 5 chances flawlessly as the Chiefs (and Bees) played errorless ball.

Tonight the Chiefs play a "doubleheader." They play their wives in the warmup and again tangle with the dangerous Bees. Jose Lizondro (7-6) will face the Bees' Roger Irvine.

Bell, Robinson Boost Redlegs

. . . HOMERS NIP BRAVES, 3-2

Milwaukee (AP) —Gus Bell and Frank Robinson slammed home runs as the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 Wednesday night and hang on to their one-game National League lead.

The Reds were shut out on 3 hits by Milwaukee rookie righthander Don Nottebart until pinch-hitting Bell opened the 8th with his 3rd home run, a shot into the right field bleachers.

Don Blasingame kept the rally moving by reaching first when his bounder took a bad bounce away from Joe Adcock. Blasingame was forced by Vada Pinson who scored as Robinson shot his 30th homer over the leftfield wall.

Both runs for the Braves, who remained in 4th, were scored by Hank Aaron who hit his 25th homer in the 6th. Aaron was hit by a pitch leading off in the second and came home on a single by Roy McMillan.

The victory went to Ken Johnson who was making his first start for the Reds after being purchased from Toronto last week. But Johnson, 1-0, was not around for the finish.

He left when Bell was sent in to bat in the 8th. J

Friend's Hit Sets Spark For Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP) — Pitcher Bob Friend broke a tie with a two-out bases-loaded single in the 6th inning Wednesday night and Pittsburgh went on to defeat San Francisco 8-3.

The victory halted the Pirates' 5-game losing streak.

The right-hander's hit to left field, with the game knotted 3-3, came after Dick LeMay walked Bob Clemente, gave a single to Don Hoak and walked Bill Mazeroski.

Friend, who was rattled for 11 hits in the first 5 innings, went the distance for his 10th victory against 13 defeats. He held the Giants to one hit through the last 4 frames.

Bowling Boss Stays

Kansas City (AP) — The National Bowling League announced it had renewed the contract of Dick Charles of Dallas, Tex., as league commissioner for one year with options for the next 4 years.

Charles, formerly of Omaha, Neb., was appointed to the position a year ago after the formation of the 10-city league that will present bowling as a paid-spectator sport.

NOTHING CONCRETE ON DYKES' STATUS

Kansas City (AP)—General manager Gabe Paul of the Cleveland Indians would neither deny nor confirm Wednesday night a report manager Jimmie Dykes would be fired shortly.

"The only crisis concerning Jimmie Dykes exists in the newspapers," Paul said. "I'm not going to be put in a position where I have to make denials on this sort of thing everytime somebody decides to write about it."

Added the cigar-smoking 64-year-old Dykes, who appeared upset:

"Gabe and I are getting along fine. The only thing that bothers me about these stories is that the players are going to read them and wonder about it. I wish he'd say something concrete."

A published report earlier Wednesday indicated Dykes would be dropped, despite repeated assurances that his job was not in jeopardy, and be replaced by Indian first base coach Mel McGaha.

"What good would it do?" Paul asked in explaining he would let time take care of everything. Refusing to back his pilot with a stronger statement, Paul said: "I hate votes of confidence."

"If I thought Jimmie wasn't doing the job, I'd tell him," Paul continued. "He knows that and I'm not going to dignify a rumor by telling him that."

—N.Y., BALTIMORE REPORTS SAY HE'LL LEAVE BIRDS—

Richards Denies Houston Job

Baltimore (AP) — Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday emphatically denied reports that he would quit the team next year to take a baseball job in his native Texas.

A report out of New York said he would take over as general manager of the new Houston club when the Colts enter the expanded National League next year.

Another report, published by the Baltimore News-Post, said the 52-year-old Richards would become manager, general manager, or both of the Dallas-Fort Worth team in the Class AAA American Association.

"I'm not going to Dallas, Houston or anywhere else," Richards said before Wednesday night's twi-night doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox. "The stories are baseless and have no foundation of fact. I have not been offered the kind of job they describe.

"It's embarrassing to turn down jobs that haven't been offered," Richards said, "but what else can I do."

Richards reiterated a previous statement that he would not manage another club after he leaves Baltimore, where his current contract has two years to run.

Referring to a general manager's post, he said, "I do not want a job that will confine me in the winter time." He said such confinement was the "most onerous part" of his dual position as manager-general manager with Baltimore a few seasons ago.

The Oriole manager recalled he denied similar reports the past year which connected him with jobs at San Francisco and Detroit.

The Houston Sports Association, holders of the Houston franchise, released a formal statement Wednesday night saying the general manager has not been selected.

The New York report said Richards would be the general manager at Houston with the possibility that Fred Hutchinson, now at Cincinnati, would be the Colts field manager.

Will's Hit In 12th Trips Cards, 7-6

Chicago (AP) — Pinch batter Bobby Will's two-out single with the bases full scored the winning run as the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals and Lindy McDaniel 7-6 in 12 innings Wednesday.

After George Altman fanned to open the 12th, Ron Santo singled and moved to second when McDaniel threw out catcher Sammy Taylor. Santo took 3rd on a wild pitch, and both Ernie Banks and Ed Bouchee were purposely passed to fill the bases.

Then Will came off the bench and stroked his hit on McDaniel's 2 and 1 pitch to score Santo.

Bird Pitchers Stingy In Sweep Of Boston

Baltimore (AP)—Four Baltimore pitchers limited the Boston Red Sox to 8 hits Wednesday night as the Orioles swept a twi-night doubleheader, 5-1 and 9-2.

Billy Hoeft, West Stock and Hoyt Wilhelm combined for a two-hitter in the opener, striking out 14 Boston batters and leaving 10 base runners stranded.

Jack Fisher hurled a 6-hitter in the nightcap as he won his 4th decision against 9 losses. The Red Sox were held hitless for 9⅓ innings from the 4th inning of the first game until Jackie Jensen doubled to open the 5th inning of the nightcap.

Jim Gentile and Jackie Brandt each knocked in 3 runs for Baltimore in the second game. Gentile's 28th homer, off loser Gene Conley (4-10) in the 5th inning, upped his RBI total to 93.

Baltimore scored 5 runs off Bill Monbouquette, 4 of them unearned, in the 7th inning of the opener. Two runs scored on the pitcher's bases-loaded throwing error.

Ogallala (AP)—Lincoln Moose forfeited to Grant Wednesday and withdrew from the Nebraska Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament.

Officials said Lincoln, with a 1-1 record in the double elimination tourney, said the distance was too far for travel.

Northeast's Kiner Plans To Become Veterinarian

Curt Kiner of Lincoln Northeast has his advanced education plans pretty well mapped out.

Kiner

Kiner, a member of the Shrine Bowl's South team, will attend the University of Nebraska this fall and next year will transfer to Kansas State to study to be a veterinarian.

Kiner is the only member of either Shrine team who is married. He and his wife, Jeannette, live at 3024 N. 63rd St. Both graduated from NE in June.

Curt was an All-City halfback and made the Sunday Journal and Star All-State honor roll. He is 5-8 and weighs 158.

His top sports thrill was a 62-yard touchdown run against Fremont last year.

Curt was born in Spokane, Wash.

Murphy Does It

Jimmy Murphy of Valentine has had his share of athletic fortune—and Broken Bow fans say most of it was against them.

Murphy

Murphy, a back for the North in the annual Shrine Bowl game, was at his best against Broken Bow.

Last fall, he intercepted a BB pass in his own end zone and raced 102 yards to a game winning touchdown as the clock ran out.

In basketball it was a last second shot by Murphy that sent Broken Bow reeling to defeat again.

A great all-around athlete, Murphy lettered 4 years in track and football and 3 in basketball.

He was the state Class B 440 champ two years ago but was slowed by leg injury this year.

A steel construction worker this summer, the Valentine ace will enroll at Nebraska U. Murphy is 6-2 and weighs 190 pounds.

The tourney will run through Friday, Aug. 4. Matches start at 8 each morning.

U.S. DISCUS ACE SILVESTER WAITING FOR SHOT AT POLE

Warsaw (AP)—Big Jay Silvester, an Army lieutenant from Trenton, Utah, thinks he is ready to:

1. Break the world discus record.
2. Break another "impossible" barrier—200 feet.
3. Show the world champ how its done.

Silvester will have a chance to do all 3 in the United States-Poland track meet Saturday and Sunday.

The discus is the big event on the program for the Poles. They have the co-world record holder in Edmund Piatkowski (196-6½) and he's practically a national hero.

"I'm ready as I'll ever be for the big one," said the confident Silvester. "I had a couple of fouls over the record in our meet with West Germany and another against Great Britain.

"There's no doubt that I'm ready. I threw one 201 feet in practice the other day, so I know it can be done."

Silvester said he has been building up to this meeting with Piatkowski all year. Against Russia, Germany and Great Britain, he knew he had nothing to worry about. Now he does.

"I've been having one little problem," said Silvester, "that has me worried. I haven't been sleeping well and that can hurt and athlete more than anything else. You can't coordinate your muscles when you are tired."

Silvester's best throw this year was 195-8 in the National AAU championships. Piatkowski has a 195-10 to his credit this spring. The two throws, in fact, were made a day apart.

TURLEY TO GO ON HURT LIST

New York, (AP)—The New York Yankees requested the American League office Wednesday to place pitcher Bob Turley on the disabled list for 30 days.

Turley, with a 3-5 record, is suffering from an inflammation of the right elbow and has been unable to pitch since July 9.

In a dozen starts this year, Turley completed only one game.

In 1958 Turley had a 21-7 record and was voted the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the majors.

$37,500 GIVEN TO BUY SCOUTS' REST RANCH

A group from North Platte Wednesday gave Gov. Frank Morrison $37,500 for the state to use for the purchase of the Original Scouts' Rest Ranch at North Platte.

Buffalo Bill Cody lived on the site for 30 years and began his famous wild west shows from there. It is now a museum.

The money was raised by residents of North Platte, although some contributions were received from other areas.

Mistaken Identity

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — A man walked into a department store, obviously waiting for someone. As he stood motionless next to a mannequin, a customer walked up to the man and felt the material of his coat sleeve. When he started to touch the other sleeve, the first man said: "That sleeve is just like the other one."

Taste the Greatness

GEN. BASIL DUKE arrives in New York at the Civil War's end. He once called Old Crow "the most famous ever made in Kentucky."

Old Crow is 126 years rich in tradition and magnificent in taste. This light, mild Kentucky bourbon is preferred over all other bourbons—and, today, bourbon is the favorite drink of the country. Try Old Crow... the bourbon that has won the praises of generations of great Americans.

REPRESENTATIVES OF RURAL POWER TO MEET

Representatives of Nebraska's 34 rural power systems will meet here Thursday to complete the membership of a state public power committee created by the 1961 Unicameral.

Six of the 9 members have already been chosen. The Omaha Public Power District, Consumers Public Power District, Loup River Power District, Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District and the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District each have one representative on the committee.

The municipal power companies also have one man on the committee.

The Rural Electric Associations will select 3 men to round out the committee when they meet at 9 a.m. in the Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln.

When formed, the committee will attempt to eliminate overlapping, duplication and conflict of interest between themselves.

The Unicameral directed the committee to seek a voluntary solution to their problems in order to head off possible legislative action.

All decisions of the committee must be unanimous.

Khrushchev's 'Catch United States' Plan Hits Trouble

New York (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is running into trouble on his promise to catch up with the United States in production by 1970.

Official Soviet figures show handsome gains, actual or planned in both agriculture and industry. But coupled with them are reports of food shortages, a slowdown in the rate of industrial growth, and sharp government measures against economic crimes and corruption.

Khrushchev's 7-year plan is supposed to push the Soviet Union past Western Europe by its completion in 1965. It is to pave the way for the drive to overtake the United States 5 years later and to create the world's highest living standard in the U.S.S.R.

Falling Behind

There are ample indications from Soviet reports that the plan is falling behind in all 3 aims.

New production figures released by the Soviet government show the rate of industrial growth to be 8.4% in the first 6 months of this year.

But an analysis of the figures by Soviet affairs experts here shows that the growth rate represents a drop from the 10% recorded in 1960 and the 12% of the year before.

Another important yardstick, labor productivity, increased 3.5%. But it was accompanied by a 4% rise in wages and salaries. When productivity fails to keep up with pay, inflation results.

Housing Drops

Housing, a key element in improving the standard of living, fell far behind the annual target of 96 million square meters of living space. Only 15 million square meters was built by the half-year mark, and even allowing for the fact that twice as much housing normally is built in the second half, the plan will be underfulfilled.

One reaction to the inflation and shortages has been an increase in black marketing and currency speculation by Soviet citizens. Death penalties were imposed last week on two men caught speculating. Khrushchev had the Soviet penal code revised earlier this year to permit the firing squad for such "parasitic" crimes.

Another reaction on the part of officials caught between the ambitious goals of the plan and the realities of production has been to pad figures. Others have committed outright theft from their enterprises. The government moved this week to stamp ot these practices.

It re-established a centralized state control commission to check on agricultural and industrial production. Observers said its purpose will be to stop cheating on production statistics and to expose administrators who embezzle money and goods.

Gains Predicted

The latest Soviet production report predicted gains for agriculture in the coming harvest. It said spring sowings are ahead of the plan, and 499 million acres are under crops. There are 17 million more acres planted to cereal crops than in 1960.

But shortages will remain for some time, even if this summer's crop is a good one. Meat is in short supply in Russia now because of the bad harvest of 1959 and its effect on livestock feeding. The 1960 harvest also was bad, which will limit next year's meat supply.

Khrushchev had predicted the Soviet Union would outproduce American farmers in meat and milk by the end of last year. Instead, Russia's 8.9 million tons of meat was little more than half the U.S. production of 17.9 million tons. Soviet milk production has not gained for two years.

Tax Liens Slap Sammy Davises

Los Angeles (AP) —Sammy Davis Jr. and his father, both entertainers, were named in liens for $35,244 additional federal income taxes for 1958.

Sammy Jr. was asked by the Internal Revenue Service to pay another $12,375 in back taxes. His father was alleged to be $22,869 in arrears.

Lincoln Girl Takes 2nd Grand Championship

Sharon and Princess . . . another championship.

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete — For the second straight year, the entry of a 15-year-old Lincoln girl took grand championship honors at the District 1 Guernsey Show.

Sharon Maule of Route 1 also won the senior female champion ribbon with her 4-year-old Princess. The same animal placed first last year, then went on to become grand champion at both the Nebraska and Iowa state fairs.

The 79 entries made the biggest showing in several years, according to chairman Lee Ficke of Milford. A number of counties from southeast Nebraska were represented at the 11th annual show.

Reserve female champion was shown by Joyce Eisenhauer of Fairbury, and the junior champion placing was by Susan Imig of Seward.

Lea Fairley of Fairbury earned both the grand champion male and junior champion awards.

Judging contest winners were: Leo Imig of Seward, men's division; Mrs. Lee Ficke of Milford, women's; Roger Schwisow of Fairbury, FFA; and Steve Riggert of Odell, 4-H.

U.S., Red China Clash On SEATO

Geneva (UPI) — The United States and Communist China clashed bitterly Wednesday over SEATO, jolting the 14-nation Laos conference after 4 days of slow but quiet negotiating on a Laotian neutrality declaration.

Before the new East-West polemics erupted at the conference session and at later press conferences, the delegates agreed in substance on 3 more articles of the neutrality document. These 3, plus a preamble and two earlier agreed articles, were turned over for editing to a newly appointed drafting committee of Britain, Russia, Communist China, India and France.

Airport Cafe Man Lodges $138,000 Suit

Larry Price, restaurant operator of the Lincoln Municipal Airport, has filed suit in Lancaster County District Court to enjoin the Airport Authority from operating a pay-parking lot adjacent to the terminal.

The suit was filed against the Airport Authority, the City of Lincoln and the Airport Parking Co. which operates the lot.

It alleges that Price has suffered a business loss of $2,000 monthly since last November when the parking charge was effected.

His suit asks $137,834 damages and an injunction of the defendants to prevent their making any charges for parking in the lot.

Quarantine Cuba, Senator Demands

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, proposed Wednesday that the United States quarantine Cuba with an air and sea blockade if Fidel Castro refuses to return a hijacked Eastern Air Lines plane.

Bennett, in a statement, said that although President Kennedy "is talking firmly about Berlin, he is not acting firmly" on the issue of the stolen Electra airliner.

Police Head Off 'Fight' Between Airmen, Youths

A potential gang fight between airmen from Lincoln Air Force Base and local youths was prevented by alert police action.

Trouble apparently arose when, according to one of the airmen questioned, the local youths had called the airmen "chicken" to meet them to settle a disagreement.

When police learned that a large group was gathering at a local drive-in, Sgt. O. D. Barker and 3 officers immediately moved in.

There were from 75 to 100 people in the gentral area when the officers arrived, according to Barker, and police began breaking up the groups.

'Rumble' Averted

Questioning verified that the youths had gathered for a "rumble," but no weapons were found, according to police.

Barker and his men advised the youths to leave the drive-in, and to stay out of the area. Police later learned that further arguments occurred between the two groups near 9th and O, but no fight broke out.

Police have had reports of possible trouble between the two groups and were ready for such an incident.

The LAFB Provost Marshal's office has assured police that they will take steps to curtail such activity by airmen.

Cool toward the United States until recently, Indonesia is starting to have warmer feelings toward us. What makes this important is that Indonesia, the world's 6th largest nation with 90 million people, is fabulously rich in natural resources, though poor in development. Science putters along looking for gloom: "By year 2050, at the present rate of population growth, Earth cannot produce enough food to support its people."

I have done a little scientific research into the present food problem. Am now able to report an interview with W. Ramage, the Reno gourmet and innkeeper.

Q—Walter, forget Year 2050. Right now there are so many people on earth you cannot get a table (let alone a bit to eat) in a first-class restaurant on Saturday night."

A—"These things can be solved. An application of a soft $10 to the heart of the headwaiter might help. Headwaiters suffer from calcification of the heart. A $10 massage relieves it."

☆ ☆ ☆

This takes care of your immediate problem. About Year 2050? Let 'em eat flowers.

This advice is given by Madame Madeleine who runs a flower shop in Paris. She advised people to cut up begonias in the bouillon. Put chopped lilac on the liver.

"Flowers are rich in iron, calcium and other materials," said Madame, nibbling at a chrysanthemum. "The most romantic food in the world."

☆ ☆ ☆

I am way ahead of madame —rich in iron, calcium and the pursuit of science.

How does my garden grow? That is a scientific and romantic question.

As is well known, I have been raising flowers on love and prayer. Conversation and the music of a six-string Mexican guitar.

I read all about this in scientific journals.

How an Indian scientist (from India, not one of those Channel 2 war whoopers) raised flowers by Indian music.

He put out balsam seeds and he got a scientific muffin—I forget her name but she did single-string hot licks on an antique Indian music thing like a banjo.

To make a long story short, the music plants jived up like Louisville Saturday night. While the balsams without music just lay there with iron-poor blood.

☆ ☆ ☆

I wish you could see my bachelors' buttons! I gave these amazing plants a bachelors' ball.

I gave them a slidy sort of number I do on "Who's Gonna Call You Sweetheart, When I Call the Whole Thing Off."

I played them "Send Me Away With a Smile" and "Little Mother of Mine."

Between numbers I sprinkled them with left-over martinis—on the dry side.

These plants have grown like Iowa corn. They are blooming. (They are a little straggly. Kind of falling over. That is probably the fault of the martinis. But anybody can see they are happy flowers.)

☆ ☆ ☆

In my other scientific window box I put the Mexican poppies. I gave them nothing but conversation:

"Buenos dias. You wish a guide to the museum?"

The poppies did not get much beyond the sprouting stage. Just sat around dozing in their serapes and muttering, "Manana."

This has been a most satisfying experiment — proving that the six-string guitar is mightier than a lot of useless talk.

Remember that when hungry 2050 rolls around. It will help your flower crop.

New Grade A Milk Law Contains Same Basic Features As Old Law

The new Grade A milk law passed by the 1961 Legislature contains the same basic requirements for producing, processing and marketing Grade A milk as those in the former law, but certain changes were made in the law's administrative features.

This was the analysis given Wednesday of the new milk law by T. A. Evans, extension dairy marketing specialist from the University of Nebraska.

The new law replaces the former one which was declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court in 1960.

Evans said that sale of ungraded pasteurized milk is now permitted under certain conditions.

He listed these principal features of the law concerning farmers who sell milk directly to consumers:

—Farmers may sell raw milk or cream directly to consumers but it must be from herds that are brucellosis-free and re-tested annually.

—The container in which the raw milk or cream is sold must be labeled "raw-ungraded milk" or "raw-ungraded cream" in letters no smaller than the name of the product on the label and in no event in letters less than one-fourth inch high. The label must also list the name and address of the farmer selling the product. These requirements apply whether the milk is delivered to the customer or picked up at the farm.

—Raw-ungraded milk or cream can be sold only directly to the consumer and cannot be sold to stores and cafes.

—Raw-ungraded milk or cream can be sold only by persons who qualify as farmers and all the milk and cream sold must be produced by the person selling it.

—No permit is needed for sale of raw-ungraded milk or cream unless it comes from a herd containing 25 or more cows. The $2 permit is sold by the State Agriculture Department.

—It is no longer necessary for persons who sell raw-ungraded milk or cream to limit sales to 30 customers each day. The reporting of sales to the State Agriculture Department also is no longer necessary.

The new Grade A law also provides that ungraded pasteurized milk may be sold providing it is:

—From herds tested as described above.

—Labeled as ungraded.

—Pasteurized according to certain standards.

—Does not have bacteria count over 50,000 or a coliform count over 10 per milliliter.

The law is enforced by the State Agriculture Department.

Stocks Stage Vigorous Rally

New York (AP) — President Kennedy's proposals for more defense spending and a bigger deficit sparked Wednesday the best stock market rally since May 17 and the first four-million-share day since June 6.

More government spending without more taxes — immediately, anyway — had inflationary implications to Wall Street and the result was a broad advance and a late ticker tape.

An estimated $3.4 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

Aircraft-missiles, electronics, steels and other stocks linked closely to a defense buildup were prominent in the advance; but oils, chemcials, coppers, airlines, electrical equipments and even the badly-battered rails joined in the upsweep.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 7.82 to 694.19.

Volume swelled to 4.07 million shares from 3.01 million Tuesday and was the largest since June 6 when 4.25 million shares changed hands.

The ticker tape ran as much as three minutes behind trading during a 46-minute late spell in the morning. The list reached its peak in late afternoon. Prices were trimmed a bit in late profit taking. The tape was late briefly again in final dealings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.40 to 245.40 with industrials up 4.10, rails up 1.80 and utilities up .50. It was the largest rise in the AP average since May 17 when it made one of equal size.

Of 1,268 issues traded, 714 advanced and 345 declined. New highs for the year totaled 32 and new lows 20.

Most prices on the American Stock Exchange were higher. Volume was 1.05 million shares compared with Tuesday's 1.03 million.

Bond volume totaled $7.33 million par value compared with $7.01 million Tuesday.

August Draft Call To Double; To Triple During September

The Nebraska draft call will probably double in August and triple in September, Col. Francis S. Drath, deputy state director of Selective Service, said Wednesday.

The August quota was recently set at 48 on the basis of a national call of 8,000. Four would have come from Lancaster County.

Col. Drath said that on the basis of an increased August call of 13,000 Nebraska's share would be about 78 and of that number maybe 6 would come from Lancaster County.

In July, 36 were involuntarily inducted but none were taken in May or June.

Other 1961 figures have been: January, 45; February, 22, March, 16; April, 9.

In 1960, the amounts ranged from 34 to 64.

The revised quotas will probably not immediately affect directives regarding age groups called or the number of health rejections.

At Age 23

Col. Drath said presently 23-year-olds were being examined and inducted.

He said that fathers and prospective fathers were not being taken and he doubted if there would be any change in that.

Of the number reporting for physicals, the current rate of rejection for all reasons is about 50%.

Most predominent reasons for health rejection are heart flaws stemming from childhood rheumatic fever, serious injuries from sports and auto accidents, and crippling diseases.

"A shocking number" are rejected for moral reasons, he said. Confiction of a felony is basis for rejection.

900 A Month

Nebraska has registered about 900 men each month for the past several years. Thus, even with a call of 200 per month, the supply would be adequate.

Many men become fathers by the time they reach 23 and many enlist prior to the time they would be called. Others join the Reserve.

At the present time ministers and ministerial students are being indefinitely deferred. Medical and dental students are also deferred while in college, but Col. Drath noted that 4 doctors were drafted from Nebraska this summer.

Other deferrals are granted to engineers and scientists and others in fields where the shortage is critical. Math, science and physics teachers were cited as examples.

He said teachers are never taken out of the classroom and if their employer makes an honest effort to replace them and fails, they are deferred.

A bus load of 30 men from Lancaster County are being taken to Omaha for physicals Monday. No more are scheduled to be examined from Lincoln until September.

Col. Drath explained that every young man is required to register with a local draft board within 5 days upon reaching his 18th birthday. He may register at any one of the 5,400 local boards in the nation and his records will be transferred back to the county of his permanent residence.

GUARD HASN'T HEARD YET

The Nebraska National Guard has received no official information on the possibility of its call to active duty.

Maj. Gen Lyle Welch, adjutant general, reported Wednesday that it is "probably too soon to know."

The Nebraska Army National Guard's manpower strength now stands at approximately 3,500. An additional 780 men are members of the Air Guard.

General Motors Net Income Up

New York (UPI) — General Motors Corp. made $876 million during the first 6 months this year, it was announced Wednesday.

After taxes, the net income for GM totaled $440 million during the first half of the year. The corporation paid $436 million in United States and foreign taxes, according to an announcement made in the corporation's second quarter report.

Sales for the first half of the current year totaled $5.812 billion. During the second quarter of 1961, total sales of $3.088 billion were recorded.

Herd Found Free Of TB

Pierre, S.D. (AP) — The South Dakota Livestock Sanitary Board has found Charlie Peterson's cattle modified tuberculosis-free.

That set the machinery in motion to permit movement of Dewey County cattle to other feeding grounds as soon as approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Peterson, 69, of Atkinson, Neb., still faces charges of obstructing and interfering with justice for resistance to having his cattle tested for MTB.

Charges against Peterson were filed because he padlocked his range north of La Plant in north central South Dakota. It was another of his resistance moves to keep government officers from testing his 680 head of cattle.

Affected All County

Peterson's opposition to the testing had caused a whole drought-stricken county to have its TB accreditation taken away. That meant other ranchers had to have a retest of their stock before moving it to areas where feed was more abundant.

Dr. M. D. Mitchell, South Dakota veterinarian, and Dr. W. F. Waddell, veterinary inspector in charge for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said Wednesday they would recommend immediate reaccreditation of Dewey County.

Peterson reached into his pocket to post a $100 bail when he was brought into Timber Lake on the obstruction charge. He has a hearing scheduled for Aug. 2, State's Atty. Andrew Aberle said.

Target Areas May Get Surplus Wheat

Washington (UPI)—An Agriculture Department task force is drafting a $70 million program to shift huge amounts of surplus wheat to the east and west coasts to feed survivors in case of a nuclear attack.

The government owned grain would be moved from storage sites, mainly in the Midwest, to 68 possible target areas along the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard.

The program is designed to build an emergency stockpile of 213 million bushels of wheat so each person affected by an attack could draw an average of three-fourths of a pound a day for 6 months.

The grain relocation plan, talked about for several years, now is the subject of "working papers" prepared by a task force under Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy.

Nothing Final

However, there is nothing final about the program and it is subject to change.

Here's how it might work: Binghamton, N.Y., a typical target area, would require 356,000 bushels of wheat to supply its population of 158,140. Most of it would come from the Midwest.

About 89,000 bushels would be stored in the city and 267,000 more would be placed in nearby locations.

The program involves shipments of grain from storage in Kansas City, Wichita, Topeka, Minneapolis, Denver, Buffalo, Fort Worth, Omaha, Oklahoma City, Amarillo, and Enid, Okla., to both coasts.

An Agriculture Department official estimated the cost of the program at $70 million (m) or more. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said at a news conference earlier this week that a movement of storage bins and wheat "might cost in the neighborhood of $30 million."

Freeman also said the department already has moved substantial amounts of wheat where it would be more available in the event of any attack.

Food needs for the 68 areas already have been determined. The task force recommends that enough government-owned wheat be located in and around each target area to supply the population an average of three-fourths of a pound of wheat per person a day for 6 months.

Accused Microwave Blaster Asks Help Of United Nations

Carson City, Nev. (UPI) — Bernard Brous, accused of blowing up a microwave communications station at Wendover, Nev., has asked the United Nations to intervene in the case.

In a motion filed in Federal District Court Wednesday, he said he has mailed open letters to members of the United Nations asking that an impartial observer be sent to his trial.

The letters asked for the U.N.'s "timely intervention in this issue of international political kidnapping and barbaric revenge." Brous referred to his capture with Dale C. Jensen on a yacht off Mexico and their subsequent return to the United States.

Both Brous, 51, Long Island, N.Y., and Jensen, 23, of Reno, are held in lieu of $100,000 bail at the Washoe County jail at Reno pending their trial in federal court here.

Brous also has filed numerous other motions including one contending he has been abused by the Justice Department. Federal Dist. Judge John Ross will rule on them when he returns next week from Portland, Ore. He also will set a trial date then.

The Wendover station and two others across the border in Utah were wrecked by explosions May 28. A federal grand jury in Utah is expected to meet to consider indictments against the two members of the "National Republican Army" on charges of sabotaging the Utah stations.

STUDENTS IN MEXICO CITY BURN CASTRO

Mexico City (UPI) — About 600 students burned a life-size effigy of Fidel Castro Wednesday at the National University.

The demonstration took place in front of the economics building, a leftist stronghold, and several fist-fights broke out. Police restored order after about an hour of fisticuffs.

Riot squad police guarded the Cuban and Soviet embassies.

About 20 youths carrying signs that read "Cuba, Yes; Russia, No" picketed the Cuban Embassy Tuesday night. During the night, anti-Castro slogans were painted on the walls of the Cuban and Soviet embassies. The two embassies are a few blocks apart. Four youths were arrested.

Man-In-The-Street Has Found Adolf Eichmann Guilty

Jerusalem (UPI) —The Israeli man-in-the-street has reached a verdict on accused mass-murderer Adolf Eichmann and has found him guilty.

The only argument among Israelis is whether Eichmann should be hanged or sentenced to life in prison.

The Eichmann trial is in adjournment until Aug. 3 when summations will begin.

Burglars Pry Away By Day

Daylight burglars were active in Lincoln Tuesday.

Two apartments were entered while the occupants were at work.

Barbara Carlson and Anita J. Biester of Apt. 302, 511 So. 13th, reported that a coffee can containing about $4 or $5 in coins and a lady's wrist watch were stolen.

The thieves gained entry by apparently using a pry bar on the door lock, according to police, and marks were found on the door of an adjacent apartment that indicated they may have tried to force entry.

Asghar A. Sherkat and Mostafa Kamalieh of Apt. A-2, 912 So. 17th, also reported to police that their apartment had been burglarized.

Two wrist watches, a ring and a $5 bill were taken. The value was estimated at $397.

Examination showed that the door lock had been forced, police said.
